Pacific Logging Congress Opens Sessions Here Leaders of Major Industry of Coast Discuss Problems

Loggers' Congress, With 250 Members in Attendance, Welcomed to Victoria by Mayor Anson To-day; Discussions at Empress Hotel Feature Methods of Lessening Operating Costs; President Mills Announces Log Production Reduced While Orders Increase.

Nearly all the leaders of the logging industry of the Pacific Northwest this morning attended the opening of the twenty-first session of the Pacific Logging Congress at the Empress Hotel, a majority of the 250 delegates having arrived early this morning on board the Ss. Princess Elizabeth, specially chartered for the convention.

The convention was officially welcomed by Mayor Anson, who extended the delegates the freedom of the city and commented upon the close relationship between the prosperity of Victoria and that of the logging and lumbering industries. His words pointed out that British Columbia had over 4,000 concerns intimately associated with the lumbering industry, that one-half the workers of the Province were employed by timber and woodworking industries and that the Province derived an annual revenue of over $4,000,000 from timber resources.

Mayor M. G. Tennent of Tacoma, responding to the welcome, said the lumber industry was the major industry of the Pacific Northwest and the effects of any slump in the lumber trade were widely felt. Although conditions of poor business had been general among lumbermen for six years, all had been able to eat three meals daily and buy new automobiles. Those engaged in lumbering put a large part of their earnings into circulation and he was confident that the freedom of the city extended the delegates by Mayor Anson would be enjoyed to the fullest extent.

BOTH GROUPS AFFECTED

Mayor Tennent referred to the close association existing between Canadian and United States lumbermen, and remarked that what affected the prosperity of one group concerned the other. The visit to Victoria would advance the friendly relations existing between British Columbia and United States logging operators.

L. H. Mills, Portland, president of the Congress, in his address, reviewed the prospects ahead of the logging industry, remarking:

"The logger who comes successfully through this period of hard times will have his costs down to a basis which will assure profitable operation when better times return. The programme of the congress has been prepared with a view to aiding the members to prove their mettle." Mr. Mills concluded.

Mr. Mills announced that log production had been held at forty-six per cent of capacity for several months. It had been a painful process and had resulted

Term of Alberta Governor Extended

Edmonton, Oct. 22.—Hon. William Egbert will continue as Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta until April 1, 1931. To-day he was notified from Ottawa that his five-year term, which expired this month, had been extended. He was asked to continue in office owing to Premier Bennett's absence in England, and has consented to do so.

Long Streamers Seen During Sun's Eclipse

Wellington, New Zealand, Oct. 22.—A radio message from Professor Adams, New Zealand astronomer, said the sky was cloudless during to-day's total eclipse of the sun, which was observed from Niuafofua Island, in the South Pacific, and that eclipse photographs were satisfactory. There were a good flare, a faint corona, two long streamers and six prominences.

VANCOUVER'S OLDEST MAN CELEBRATES 110TH BIRTHDAY

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—To-day friends of "Dad" Quick, Vancouver's senior citizen, congratulated him on the attainment of his 110th birthday. The veteran saddlemaker, who lays claim to that long span of years, looks back on many interesting historical events since he left his birthplace, Taunton, Somersetshire, England, many years ago.

CONFERENCE OF EMPIRE MAY END ON NOV. 12

Sub-committees at Work To-day While British Cabinet Met

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
London, Oct. 22.—The British Cabinet was closeted in its weekly conference to-day, so the proceedings of the imperial conference were confined to discussion of technical subjects by the routine sub-committees.

Such questions as the form of commercial treaties were being considered, along with a mass of statistics. It is now expected the conference will end about November 12. There is still no indication of when the British Government will make its formal reply to Premier Bennett's preference proposals.

Capitalization Of Railways Increased

Buenos Aires, Oct. 22.—The Ministry of Public Works to-day announced an increase of $5,910,000 in the capital stock of the British-owned Southern Railways, and of $1,000,000 in the capital stock of the British-owned Western Railways.

Sees New Era of Unity in China

Above is one of the latest pictures of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, Nationalist President of China, just received in Victoria. Three days ago Chiang predicted a period of peace and development for China following the crushing of the armies which have been fighting against the Nanking government. The outbreak in Kiangsi Province, where Communist hordes slaughtered 8,000 natives this month, are threats against the peace which must be ended along with the civil war.

TUG BLOWS UP AND TWO MEN DROWN

Two Men Rescued When Disaster Overtakes Craft on Lake Winnipeg

Vessel Carrying Fishing Supplies For Winter Season When Destroyed

Winnipeg, Oct. 22.—Two seamen were drowned in Lake Winnipeg to-day when the tug Magnus was forced by flames to take to the water. Within a few minutes after the four sailors on the tug had leaped into the icy lake the boiler of the tug exploded with a blast that was heard a mile down the lake.

Capt. Will Bjarnason and Engineer Joe Bell were the men who lost their lives.

Responding to call for aid sounded by the tug's siren, the tug Colford rushed to the scene and saved Martin Johnson and Ole Kordell, members of the lost tug's crew. The two men were dragged from the cold water of the lake half dead from exposure. No traces of the bodies of Capt. Bjarnason and his engineer were found.

SMOKE GAVE WARNING
Soon after the Magnus had set out from Gimli early to-day flames broke out in the boiler room and licked their way along the beams of the small oil-burning launch-tug. Smoke rising from the hatch first brought attention of the crew to the fire, which by that time was uncontrollable. After battling the flames for a few minutes the captain gave orders to abandon the craft.

Hardly had the four sailors jumped into the lake when the flames reached the oil supply and a new outbreak of flame swept the little craft. In a moment the boiler exploded and the boat sank.

The Magnus, owned by the Armstrongs, Small Fisheries Company, was heading toward fishing waters at the north end of Lake Manitoba with supplies for the winter season.

PRICE CUT ON GASOLINE IN VANCOUVER

One Firm Reduces Figure to 28 Cents a Gallon to Aid Auto Transportation

Victoria Dealers Say There Will Be No Change in the Price Here

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Vancouver gasoline distributors were startled by the announcement of a well-known city to-day, gasoline being sold at twenty-eight cents a gallon, which is four cents below the regular rate. The government tax of five cents a gallon is included in the cut rate.

"We have acted independently," an official of the firm making the reduction declared this morning. "Our company considers the cost of auto transportation should be lower, and we are making the first move in this direction. It is also good business."

Officials of wholesale gasoline organizations are discussing the situation, and either declaring they are not contemplating any reduction or decline to make any statement.

All gasoline wholesalers in Victoria to-day denied knowledge of any impending cut in the price of gasoline. They considered the action of the Vancouver firm as the possible start of a price war among retailers in that area and did not think the price here would be affected.

TANKER RUNS AGROUND OFF PT. TOWNSEND

Fog Sent Another Ship Ashore To-day Not Far From Here; Tugs Stand By

This morning's thick fog lying low over the Gulf of Georgia and the Strait of Juan de Fuca sent another ship ashore to-day. While outbound from Seattle for Los Angeles the Sunset Pacific Oil Company's tanker William Isom, went ashore near the Government Fisheries dock, three-quarters of a mile south of Marrowstone Point, near Port Townsend. Tugs from Seattle are now alongside the tanker and will attempt to release her early this evening.

The Pacific Salvage Company's Vancouver steamer Anyox was standing ready to proceed to the aid of the tanker to-day should be needed. The Victoria salvage steamer Salvage King was busy with the freighter Henry S. Gray, which is stranded on a tiny island several miles north of where the tanker is held on a rocky bottom. The tanker is registered at 3,000 tons.

Brazil Army Planes Mapping Rebel Territory

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 22.—Federal authorities to-day asserted the government air forces were dominating the situation over rebel territory and were making constant flight into the interior to the state of Parana, mapping the insurgents' positions.

A communiqué said the insurgents made two attempts to cross the Sengas River near Igarassu, Parana, but had been repulsed each time. Federal planes aided in the fighting and helped to drive back the rebels.

PREMIER BENNETT RECOVERS FROM THROAT TROUBLE

London, Oct. 22.—Premier R. B. Bennett of Canada, who is suffering from an infection of the throat, was imperiled to-day, but still confined to his hotel room. It is not likely he will undertake any public engagements for a few more days.

OXFORD STUDENTS CAMPAIGN TO PUT END TO CO-EDUCATION

Oxford, Eng., Oct. 22.—A campaign against having co-eds at Oxford has been renewed by male students of this ancient university.

For a long time many of the men students have been strongly against the co-education policy. The student magazine Isis to-day published an editorial against women students, inviting them to "make for home, again."

PROBLEMS OF RURAL LIFE ARE AIRED

Women's Institutes of South Vancouver Island Open Conference To-day

Reports Show Much Being Done Towards Community Betterment

Some of the problems confronting settlers in the rural districts of British Columbia and the measures being taken by the women to remedy conditions were revealed in the interesting reports presented at the opening session of the annual conference of the Vancouver Island South District Women's Institutes.

Mrs. W. Robson of Viny presided at the gathering, which is being held for two days in the members' room at the Parliament Buildings, with about fifty representatives of the institutes in attendance.

CIVIC WELCOME

Mayor Anson cordially welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city and congratulated the institutes on the valuable work they were accomplishing in the rural districts of Vancouver Island. The women had taken up a work which had tremendously helped the development of the rural areas in particular, and the whole Island in general.

Mrs. Troop of Oyster Bay tendered the thanks of the gathering to the City of Victoria, on behalf of the out-of-town delegates and hoped that the deliberations of the conference would be of mutual benefit to the institutes and the province.

EDUCATION ACT REVIEWED

Hon. J. Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, reviewed the intentions, use of the act, and the advantages accruing to its beneficiaries, of the act passed at the last session, giving educational assistance to the children of ex-service men. While the ex-service man is primarily the charge of the Dominion Government, the provincial authorities were anxious to do all in their power to render assistance to these veterans.

The roof of the theatre collapsed, it was believed numerous firemen had been caught beneath it and killed.

AUTO CLUB OF B.C. IS TO HAVE NEW MANAGER

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Capt. A. E. Craddock, manager of the Automobile Club of British Columbia for several years, has resigned. It was announced to-day that his resignation had been tendered at the last meeting of the directors, but he was remaining in the office for a couple of weeks until arrangements for carrying on his work should be completed.

When Matthew Arnold knew Oxford he never envisaged it as the home of intends to enter private business in Vancouver.

Horrible Slaughter Reported to Have Accompanied Looting of City of Kian

Bandits Demand Ransom of $10,000,000 Mexican For Release of Church Workers

Canadian Press
Shanghai, Oct. 22.—Chinese press dispatches from Nanchang to-day said 8,000 men and women had been slaughtered since the capture of Kian, Kiangsi Province, by Communist hordes on October 6. Burning and looting in the city accompanied the massacre.

Missionary advisers from Kiukiang said five foreign Roman Catholic sisters had been captured by the Reds and were being held in a Communist hospital a few miles outside of Kian, while five Chinese nuns were held at Red headquarters within the city. The whereabouts of four priests captured by the Communists was not known.

UNEMPLOYED IN DETROIT NOW TOTAL 100,000

Many Forced to Sell Autos and Homes to Buy Food and Clothing

Canadian Press
Detroit, Oct. 22.—There are no bread lines or soup kitchens in this automotive centre and yet there are 82,500 persons who have registered with municipal agencies as being idle.

The great majority of these, records showed to-day, have so far been able to support themselves and families without appealing to charity. "This has been possible in the main because they fell back on resources laid away for the proverbial rainy day."

Now that the weekly payroll has become a memory for many, these workers have converted property into money with which to purchase food and clothing.

Detroit has been able accurately to gauge its unemployment problem (Concluded on Page 2)

ONLY TEN DAYS LEFT TO REGISTER ON VOTERS' LIST

With ten days left for registration of householders and licensees on the City Voters' List, a total of 1,347 people have already made declarations, it was announced at the city clerk's office this morning. Indications that a larger percentage of declarations would be made this year are seen in the fact that up to this time last year only 1,134 people had registered.

B.C. SEASON'S SALMON PACK NOW NEARS 2,100,000 CASES

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—British Columbia's salmon pack for the 1930 season passed the 2,000,000-case mark last week and is now about 2,034,420 cases, according to a statement issued from the office of the supervisor of fisheries here to-day.

This total is about level with the 1928 pack and 31,000 cases behind the previous record pack of 1926.

Kingsford-Smith, Greeted By Thousands at Sydney After Record Journey From England, Says Feat Proves Commercial Possibilities; Welcomed By Fiancee

Canadian Press
Sydney, Australia, Oct. 22.—"I honestly believe what I have done will be of some service to the development of aviation as the greatest modern commercial transport," said Wing Commander Kingsford-Smith in an address broadcast by radio just after his arrival here to-day, following his great solo flight from England.

"Time is money, and with safety of flying under properly organized conditions, which are now established, nothing can hold aviation back."

"This flight was made under normal conditions which allowed me to rest and keep fit, in a light single-engine machine, which behaved just as well as the big Southern Cross. It is a demonstration of the commercial possibilities of the route I followed provided nothing is left to chance. Proper organization, no less than the man and his machine, is a vital factor in success of long flights."

RECORD PERFORMANCE

Sydney was brought to within less than thirty days from London with the completion of Commander Kingsford-Smith's 12,000-mile airplane journey.

The famous aviator, victor over both the Pacific and Atlantic, and holder of a newly-made record for flights between England and the Australian continent, landed at the Mascot Airfield at 2:55 p.m. (8:53 Tuesday evening, Victoria time), after a 45-mile trip from Brisbane.

OUR VANCOUVER VISITORS

THE VISIT TO VICTORIA TO-DAY
Between forty and fifty members of the Vancouver Board of Trade for a luncheon gathering and conference with the local Chamber of Commerce, prompts the suggestion that meetings of this kind should be held more frequently. Victoria and Vancouver have so many provincial, national and international common problems which call for intimate co-operation between the commercial interests of both communities. Our visitors represent one of the strongest and most influential organizations of its kind in Canada, with a fine record of achievement from which all parts of the province have benefited. It was largely on the initiative of the Vancouver Board that the Canadian Chamber of Commerce arranged for a trade mission—now on its way across the Pacific—to tour the Oriental countries in the interests of our foreign commerce.

Victoria and Vancouver stand at the gateway of a comparatively unexploited market in the most thickly-populated of the Pacific countries. Through these ports the products of Canada's farms and factories will flow to this market. Here in itself is an argument for cordial co-operation between these two Boards of Trade. The two cities, moreover, must necessarily be concerned in the development of the great hinterland of British Columbia. After all, this province has a population of only 600,000, and we can not expand properly except on the broad basis of provincial co-operation.

THE BOOT ON THE OTHER FOOT

IT IS NOT A FAIR PRESENTATION
OF the case, as a contemporary implies, to say that Mr. Snowden, or the government of which he is a member, has locked and bolted the door against Premier Bennett's specific proposal of empire tariffs. Rather would it be nearer the mark to say that when the Canadian Prime Minister decided upon his course of action he himself locked and bolted the door against Great Britain's acceptance of his scheme. And it would seem to be a reflection upon his intelligence and knowledge of British politics to suggest that he even expected his proposal to meet with approval. This is not to say that the door is locked and bolted on all alternative formulas. But the fact remains that Mr. Bennett is responsible for presenting the conference with its first difficulty.

Mr. Bennett's chief concern is to sell more Canadian wheat to Great Britain. It is essential to the prosperity of the Canadian farmer to have an assured market for his products. But he did not discover this fact on his way across the ocean. He must have had it in mind from the day he knew he would lead the Canadian delegation to London. Yet at the emergency session of Parliament he increased the duties on many of the products Canada imports from Great Britain, reducing British sales to this country, and then proceeded to London to demand that foreign wheat be taxed by Britain, with consequent dearer food for the British consumer, so that Canadian wheat would get a preference in Britain. For this concession all he would give to British goods sold to Canada would be a small increase in the duties on foreign goods. Hence, it will be seen that it was Mr. Bennett, not the British government, who was responsible for slamming the door on the Canadian proposals.

THE DEMAND UPON ALPHONSO

ALTHOUGH THE WORLD HAS BEEN
permitted to learn very little of what has taken place in Spain recently, the news-gathering agencies reported fairly fully the proceedings of a great demonstration of 20,000 people in the Madrid bull-ring two weeks ago last Sunday, when the King of Spain was called upon to abdicate. Fragmentary messages since have intimated that the government, in conformity with the law which prohibits any attack on the King, was taking steps to arrest and punish the ringleaders of what is recognized as an influential and seemingly popular revolutionary movement. How serious the situation is, what stand the government proposes to take in defence of the monarchy, a strict censorship prohibits the outside world from learning. One whom a dispatch from London described as a competent observer, with adequate opportunities of estimating the force of the movement, reached England during last week-end and declared that the plot in Spain fell short of the mark, and that a revolt in parts of Portugal likewise had proved abortive.

The significant feature about the trouble in Spain is that 20,000 people were able successfully to gather in the great bull-ring in the heart of the capital, within a comparatively short distance of the royal residence, and openly, without interference from the authorities, demand the King's abdication. With the exception of an impressive display of force at strategic points in all the avenues leading to the amphitheatre, the government took a more or less passive view of the matter. The dominating note sounded at the meeting apparently was the demand for a new regime that would make Spain a twentieth-century country so that she might take her proper place in Europe. Senior Marcelino Domingo, in common with all the rest of the speakers, boldly attacked the monarchy, declaring that for one hundred years Spain had been endeavoring to free herself from the abuses of personal power, and that innumerable persons were to-day in prison in consequence of their opinions. Reference also was made to the example given to the world by Great Britain in political matters and to the "admirable provision made for educating people in honest and open dealing through the practice of sport, respect of law, and clean methods in politics, as against the corruption of the official world of Spain."

These appear to be perilous days for the governments of Latin countries; no matter whether republican or monarchical, and the unrest which is causing considerable strife and economic uncertainty in several of the Latin republics of this continent obviously is spreading to the Old World.

WATCH OUT, MR. BENNETT AND MR. GUTHRIE

THOSE ORDINARY MORTALS AMONG
us who wear spats in the winter months to keep their ankles warm and dry, and are not concerned about fashion dictates or whether the individual who does not wear them likes them or not, may be interested to know that there is a weekly journal published in London, England, called The Tailor and Cutter, that had its eye on the delegates to the Imperial Conference in 1926—pedal extremities and all—and probably is doing the same on this occasion. This publication, by the way, decides what is the correct form of wearing apparel and what generally is the rig-out for all occasions. It appears that Mr. Mackenzie King won first prize among all the Dominion delegates four years ago. The morning coat of Premier Bruce of Australia was not so bad; but he wore spats with it, and that put him outside the pale altogether. Apparently our Prime Minister was spatsless and got full marks for his nifty regalia otherwise. We are not told whether he got a tip on this point or inquired about procedure on his own account. However, unfortunately, he won the palm for Canada.

But our observant contemporary The Saskatoon Star-Phoenix recalls this incident of four years ago with relish. In common with other newspapers in Canada, it has received its copy of the group photograph of the present Imperial Conference delegates—one of those pictures in which you read the eleventh or twelfth man—and of the twenty-six exhibited in the front row the only spatted feet those belonging to Mr. Bennett and Mr. Guthrie, the Canadian Prime Minister and the Canadian Minister of Justice. Now, asks the Saskatoon newspaper, what will The Tailor and Cutter say? It fears Canada this time, and not Australia, will have to bite the dust. Meanwhile it awaits with not a little trepidation the arrival of the next issue of the London publication which speaks authoritatively upon masculine habiliment.

FARMING SYSTEMS

HAS THE TIME COME TO MAKE
prairie farming a big business affair? Agricultural experts from North and South Dakota, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, meeting at Regina recently, came to the conclusion that the system or want of system under which a lot of little farms strung out and maintained over the prairie is wasteful. They prefer what they call the operation of "wheat factories." Under that system, wheat, they say, can be grown profitably at sixty-five cents a bushel. Professor Swanson, on the other hand, thinks that farms of 100,000 acres—which is the area contemplated in some quarters—would be unsound both economically and sociologically. Farms, he says, are primarily homes, and he condemns the suggestion to convert them into factories. There is, however, the suggestion put forward by Mr. E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. As he notes, mechanization has changed the aspect of farm work, and among other things, makes it more difficult for the small farmer to work at a profit. Co-operation is essential, and Mr. Beatty urges that these smaller farms be operated in larger units so as to lighten the overhead burden of costly machinery through the use of which the farmers are able to produce wheat at lower selling cost. Taking one thing with another, it is encouraging to note, those who know western conditions best are most confident as to the future.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

WETS AND DRIES

Clarence Darrow and Clarence True Wilson, who have been making a joint study of the Canadian system of liquor control, agree on a single point: "That it is hopeless for wets and dries to agree." Which goes to show that the liquor problem in the United States can never be satisfactorily settled by the extremists.

CONTROL OF LIQUOR

Canada has the equivalent of State control. The provinces are not bound by Dominion law, but by their own. They regulate the matter as they please. Prohibitionists say the conditions are bad. More reasonable observers say they are good. No Canadian province has any such problem as is found in the dry American States under federal jurisdiction in prohibition.

CANADA'S TARIFF ULTIMATUM

With "Canada First" as the objective, the Canadian tariff has been adjusted to operate against free trade with Great Britain. The Conservative policy is first to raise the tariff barriers so high that competition from British sources will be throttled. After putting up this tariff structure, the Canadian proposal is to increase it ten per cent more against the countries it is merely a sham preference. When the fence is made sufficiently high to keep British goods out of the Canadian field, it is no step toward free trade to add ten per cent to the fence against other countries.

The most preposterous part of the Canadian ultimatum is that in return for this tariff gold brick, Britain must proceed to tax herself ten per cent on imports from foreign countries for the benefit of Canada. One of Great Britain's best customers is Argentina. Ships go laden from British ports with manufactured goods to Argentina. They return laden with Argentine grain. Premier Bennett's demand is that a customs duty of ten per cent be imposed upon Argentine and other foreign grain coming into Britain.

There is a strong desire in Britain to promote trade within a British family of nations. Everywhere throughout the United Kingdom the publicity of the Empire Marketing Board is to be seen, urging British consumers to "Buy Canadian Apples," and similarly to buy other Canadian goods. At the present time, British consumers do buy far more from Canada than Canadian consumers buy from Great Britain. Premier Bennett is in effect presenting an ultimatum to the British people to buy still more from Canada, while he is putting up the tariff to make it more difficult for British goods to gain admission to Canada. It may be discovered before many more years that Great Britain is hardly so dependent upon the Canadian market as to bow submissively to Premier Bennett's blasting policy. Somebody's bluff is quite liable to be called.

A THOUGHT

Blessed is the man that endureth temptation.—James 1:12.
Temptation is the fire that brings up the scum of the heart.—Boston.

Loose Ends

Concerning the grading of apples and boys—the curious plans of a lady who recites—and a drowning accident out our way.

By H. B. W.

A curious condition has just been revealed in England, where a large industrial firm is reported to have arranged to take thirty boys a year to be trained as experts in its business. The curious condition is that all these boys must come from public (or as we say, private) schools, and no others, however brilliant, will be considered. Over this I am glad to see, there is much controversy in the Old Land, and people with more brains than social ambition are being rather strenuously. Their fancy is well summed up by The Manchester Guardian, which says that "in these days of fierce competition England needs the help of the best brains she can find."

NOW this is particularly interesting to me here, whatever you think of the merits of the arrangement, for at this time, I am told, the educational authorities of British Columbia are concerning themselves with giving the boys of this country as much of their education as possible in the British firm, which is understood to give a boy unbounded opportunities for learning if he is capable of absorbing it, while training a boy to be a good mechanic, or a boy to be a good farmer, or that is what nature intended him for. All of which, of course, is the exact opposite of the system adopted by the British firm, which is more concerned with a boy's origin than his ability.

IN an Okanagan paper I read that a leader of British Columbia education has just put this whole matter in a remarkably graphic fashion. He compared education to one of those great Okanagan packing plants where the big red apples are graded and packed. If you have been in one of these establishments you have seen the apples poured upon a kind of moving belt in such a way that they reach a hole which is large enough for them, they fall into a receptacle with other apples of the size. The smallest apples fall out of the line first and the largest and best go to the very end of the machine to be packed and labeled as extra fancies. An ideal system of education, said this authority, would be based on just this principle. The students best fitted for learning would be given the most advanced education, while those who are not so fitted would be given the least. This is the system of the extra fancies. Those whose ability in this direction was less would proceed 60 feet. They would stop with the lower grades, without which the fruit industry could not go on.

THE essential fallacy of the system advocated by the British company (but denounced by many people in England) is that under it all the apples, regardless of their size and quality, go to the same grade. This is not only reduces the general quality of the extra fancies but limits the supply of the other grades. This, in its turn, makes it all the harder for the extra fancies, for under our present arrangement of education, what the necessity of earning a living and similar inconveniences, the competition among extra fancies is fierce. There are too many of them for the market. What is more absurd still, many apples of real quality, under this curious system, would be prevented from getting on at all. Happily, however, the world finally judges its apples by the eating, not the grading.

A STRANGE thing happened to me the other day. A lady whom I met at a party announced in a great burst of confidence, that she had just out one of these columns and was going to recite it at a church social. It was quite a sober and respectable party where I met this lady, which makes her statement all the more inexplicable. Stranger still, she seemed quite a nice lady, which is difficult to imagine of any reciter, and almost impossible to conceive of a reciter of this column. Well, despite all I could do to dissuade her, the lady said she was determined to recite her piece at the church social, and I supposed she would. Of course, will be the last time she will recite anything anywhere. So you see that a column like this can sometimes prove a priceless boon to humanity, in a devious way. Possibly a simpler method would be to exterminate all reciters at birth, which would eliminate not only their recitations, but the last reason for the existence of such columns as this.

WE AVERTED a drowning tragedy out our way to-day, the little girl from next door and I, but it didn't do much good. The victim was going under for the last time when we pulled him out. He was so far gone, indeed, that he couldn't make a sound and he just lay out on the grass with his great brown eyes so dulled that we were sure he would never survive. As he must die before many days had passed away we rather wondered, the little girl from next door and I, whether it had been worth pulling him out at all. "He's terrible sick," said the little girl from next door, very solemnly, pulling his other leg until it almost came off. "Yes," I said, "he's terrible sick." And he was. I was the sickliest grasshopper I have ever seen.

TOGETHER the little girl and I contemplated the sick grasshopper in silence, each busy with our own deep thoughts. We thought, or at least I did, how curious are the ways of nature, which ordain that grasshoppers shall hop about gaily all summer, with new pleasures at every hop; and then perish miserably in the fall. We thought how strange it was that we ture equipped this fellow with such superb powers of locomotion only to let him hop into a mud puddle and then into an early grave. And as we watched his lustreless eyes and his front leg, cut off at the knee, and after his immersion in the puddle, we were profoundly melancholy in the common mortality which we shared with this dying grasshopper. After yet not to consider its report. He had studied the problems from many angles and had found that the British system had many features applicable to the Russian concerns in one or two of the provinces of the province would cause tremendous difficulties.

THE LITTLE girl from next door looked at him for a long time, her eyes open wide in amazement. At last she opined: "Something happened to him, I guess. What happened to him, please?" This was her first experience with this sort of thing and she couldn't understand it. We were away from there to visit the Jersey as they called the road, but even the sight of this jolly creature didn't seem to impress the little girl from next door as much as usual. She was thinking of a new phenomenon and was puzzled. I didn't tell her that everyone else was too, and had been for several thousand years.

WHY COST IS HIGH

Mr. Pearson declared that only one-half the patients in hospitals to-day paid their accounts and medical men had informed him that only one-third of their patients paid their accounts. "Those who pay their physicians pay three times too much because two-thirds of the sick pay nothing. Under the present system of health insurance, the total cost of health insurance would not be greatly in excess of the present annual charges," he concluded.

PAID DIVIDEND DESPITE POOR CONDITIONS: RUSSIAN SITUATION REVIEWED

While frankly confessing that conditions on the prairies were bad, his organization, the United Grain Growers Limited, had paid a dividend of six per cent, stated C. E. Hope, a director of the company, speaking before the Victoria local meeting in the Dominion Hotel yesterday. Mr. Hope, whose home is in Langley, B.C., gave a full report of the proceedings at the last directors' meeting in Regina and the twenty-four local shareholders every reason for optimism in the company with his remarks.

ARMISTICE DAY

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—Canada will observe the customary two-minute silence on the morning of Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11. The following statement in respect to it was issued yesterday from the office of the Prime Minister: "In accordance with arrangements for the observance of Armistice Day, sanctioned by His Majesty the King, the people of Canada are invited to mark the occasion by a two-minute silence at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, November 11, 1930."

STATE HEALTH INSURANCE NOT FAR DISTANT

Geo. S. Pearson, M.P.P., Tells Saanich Liberals of Problems Involved

Province-wide Health Service Not Costly, Commission Member Asserts

George S. Pearson, M.P.P., yesterday evening explained state health insurance problems in a speech before the annual meeting of the Saanich Liberal Association held at Marigold Hall. He expressed the hope that a comprehensive report on state health insurance would be submitted to the Provincial Legislature at its next session by the State Health Insurance Commission of which he was a member and expected that speedy action would follow.

"There is one handicap I fear may delay action. It is our hope that speedy adoption of legislation will follow the action from the Government and that is saying a lot. But there is liable to be too much stress on national health insurance. We can get state health insurance, but it will be delayed fifteen or more years," he said, pointing to the difficulties in harmonizing all the provinces, as shown by the old pension policy not yet in effect in several provinces.

PERSONAL VIEWS ONLY
Mr. Pearson declared his statements to be only his own personal views and that he was not to be considered as the Health Insurance Commission had had studied the problems from many angles and had found that the British system had many features applicable to the Russian concerns in one or two of the provinces of the province would cause tremendous difficulties.

Collection of a few penny weekly from workmen was sufficient in England, but such small contributions would be useless in this province. Mr. Pearson said many industrial towns such as Powell River already had adequate local health insurance systems in effect, and had looked upon provincial insurance with some alarm. Settlers 200 miles away from medical facilities could not be expected to pay on a basis comparable with the cost of service, yet such settlers, with children and similar problems, were most urgently needing service at low cost.

SEASONAL WORKERS
The question of health insurance was complicated by seasonal employment in many areas, such as the orchard district around Vernon or the fishing industry of the West Coast. "The question is, are we going to confine this service to workers? There are a surprising number of people who have very tiny incomes. Must we make the amount paid in fees vary with the income, or must there be a flat rate for all? This is a serious problem," Mr. Pearson pointed out.

INCLUDE HOSPITALS
He believed that inclusion of hospital service within the scope of any state health insurance scheme would be essential. The question of cash sickness payments, to men who work only part of the year, would be a matter of great concern to many men who work for wages for several months and live on small farms for the remainder of the year. "Cash payments to men out of work through sickness might tend to encourage malingering unless strictly safeguarded."

Mr. Pearson believed that if Liberal associations and similar bodies would discuss the many questions among themselves they would greatly aid in solving the problems involved. He was convinced the people desired health insurance and that a state health insurance would be obtainable at very little higher cost than the present system which only served a part of the population.

WHY COST IS HIGH
Mr. Pearson declared that only one-half the patients in hospitals to-day paid their accounts and medical men had informed him that only one-third of their patients paid their accounts. "Those who pay their physicians pay three times too much because two-thirds of the sick pay nothing. Under the present system of health insurance, the total cost of health insurance would not be greatly in excess of the present annual charges," he concluded.

Norman W. Whittaker moved the vote of thanks, to Mr. Pearson for his address.

UNITED GROWERS' STRENGTH SHOWN IN WHEAT CRISIS

Victoria Local Hears Report From Director of Largest Independent Company

While frankly confessing that conditions on the prairies were bad, his organization, the United Grain Growers Limited, had paid a dividend of six per cent, stated C. E. Hope, a director of the company, speaking before the Victoria local meeting in the Dominion Hotel yesterday. Mr. Hope, whose home is in Langley, B.C., gave a full report of the proceedings at the last directors' meeting in Regina and the twenty-four local shareholders every reason for optimism in the company with his remarks.

During the meeting officers for the Victoria body were elected. A. M. Ferrier was named the local delegate to the annual meeting of the organization in Winnipeg on November 12. The same man was elevated to the chairmanship of the Victoria branch, while C. E. Whittaker-Griffiths was re-elected secretary. W. H. English, J.

BISHOP TELLS OF LAMBETH MEETING

Gathering This Year Held Interest of Entire World, Audience Told

Conducted on a system of comprehension rather than exclusion, the Lambeth Bishop's Conference this year was one of the greatest ever held as far as frankness of expression was concerned, according to Bishop C. de V. Schofield, who yesterday evening addressed a large and appreciative audience in the Memorial Hall.

With 308 bishops gathered from all parts of the world the conference had as its principal function to provide counsel and leadership to the Anglican churches of the world. It held the interest of the entire globe.

"If you study the report of the conference it will make you realize that while our church began as an Empire organization she has extended far beyond that status," Bishop Schofield said.

There was a remarkable readiness to see the other man's point at all times, he continued in discussing some of the features of the gathering. This was due to the fact that the whole of the Anglican Church supported the conference.

VOCATION OF YOUTH

The Bishop referred to the work of committees, mentioned in particular one on which he had been a member, to inquire into the topic "Youth and Its Vocation." This committee drew attention to the fact that the church had erred in leaving youth out of all representative assemblies and in consequence a resolution was passed favoring the inclusion of young people in the affairs of the church councils.

Using the words of an English critic, the speaker described the conference as "modern as the daily paper, and as evangelical as the New Testament." The conference, he concluded, had paved the way for intercommunion between the Christian churches. All branches of the Protestant church should be represented at the next conference and in the near future the other great branch of Christendom might meet with the Anglican Church at Lambeth.

TOLME REJECTS ELECTION OFFER

Will Not Promise P.G.E. Extension to North Vancouver Liberals

Prospects For Early Disposal of Line Never Brighter, He Says

The British Columbia Government will give no promise to immediately complete the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from North Vancouver to Prince George if North Vancouver Liberals will refrain from entering a candidate in the North Vancouver by-election Premier Tolmie intimates in his reply to the offer.

The reply is in the hands of Thomas Milne, president of the North Vancouver Liberal Association.

"The prospects for the disposal of this railway in the near future were never better," the Premier says. "The Government realizes that a satisfactory disposal of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway problem is one of the most important that we have before us and that it is one which concerns all the people of British Columbia."

"We have carried on our negotiations with industry and vigor and it is not considered advisable to jeopardize these negotiations by proceeding at the present time."

CONSERVATIVE POLICY

Premier Tolmie quotes from the Conservative party manifesto of June 16, 1928, to show that it has been the policy of the party to complete the P.G.E. from Vancouver to Prince George. He refers to the survey now being conducted to show the Government has carried out its promises and concludes:

"Last year we were able to operate the Pacific Great Eastern Railway at a profit over operating expenses for several months. An even better record would have been shown this year had it not been for the business depression which has been general all over the continent."

"An entirely new light, however, has been thrown on the situation as a result of the announcement of the Hon. R. B. Bennett that he will find a Pacific Coast outlet for the rich Peace River country. This is of the greatest importance."

"During my recent visit to the East I had a discussion with Premier Bennett regarding the outlet to the Peace River country, but owing to pressure of work falling on his shoulders at that time, it was impossible to go into the matter at any length. He agreed that this question would be taken up with the railway heads and with myself shortly after his return."

SHE WILL THANK SARGON REST OF LIFE, SHE SAYS

Vancouver Woman Says There's a New Spirit in Her Whole Family Since They Found Sargon

"This is one home that has certainly been made happy by this wonderful Sargon medicine," declared Mrs. Emilie C. W. Sorenson recently, who lives at 1353 Pender Street, E., Vancouver.

"Six children and a sick husband who was an almost constant care were down my strength and vitality until sometimes I honestly felt like my legs would "wear out from under me." I was so nervous the least noise made me almost "jump out of my skin" and I couldn't sleep good at night, on account of a rheumatic condition and numbness in my arms and legs.

"I'd tried all my life to build myself up to at least ninety-five pounds, but no matter how much I ate, it didn't seem to do me any good. I'd have gas and a sourness in my stomach; became subject to dizzy spells and got weaker and weaker, until, finally, last June I had to have an operation which pulled me down completely."

"After only three bottles of Sargon, I'm well and strong again and weigh exactly ninety-six and three quarter pounds—more than I ever weighed in my life. My troubles are all gone, there's not an ache or pain in my body, and I can do all my housework without getting the least bit tired. No body knows what a relief it is to be over all that nervousness and to be able to get good nights sleep again."

"I started my husband on the Sargon treatment not long ago, and the improvement it has made in his condition is perfectly marvelous. He's like a different man and says he will soon be able to go back to work again. There's a new spirit in our whole family and we'll feel thankful for Sargon the rest of our lives."

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from "All Owl" Drug Stores, in New Westminster from the Best Drug Company, in Esquimalt from Fulmer's Drug Store, in Oak Bay from Charles Hudson. (Adv.)

THE SPORTS MIRROR

PLACING a ban on the Canadian hockey players by the United States immigration because they are "skilled help" arouses a smile. The import of "skilled help" in the first place was to restrict entry of applicants in vocations where there was plenty of help within the United States. For instance, if a carpenter applied for a passport, and there was a scarcity of skilled carpenters in the United States, he would be admitted. But if not, he would be turned back. The ban fell on hockey players last week. One would think there were plenty American-born hockey stars in the United States out of work. Not one first class hockey player has yet been developed in the United States.

The New York Americans' management did themselves a good turn when they signed Edgard, a Canadian player. He won the world championship with the Montreal Maroons a year ago. He took charge of a club as manager. That was the year the Maroons humbled the Victoria Cougars at Montreal. He will certainly be entitled to a niche in the hall of fame if he emerges with the Americans in possession of the title next spring.

This great player started his scintillating career with the New Edinburgh team. In 1914 he linked up with the Ottawa Senators, and from that time until he quit playing, from illness, he figured as high on four world championship teams. As a defender, he had few, if any equals, and had done more than his share to bring international glory to Ottawa, the city of his birth. He was one of the first managers to use a blackboard in the dressing room. Seated on the bench, Gerard never seemed excited and hardly ever talks out loud.

Among the great hockey players, past and present are the following: Edgard, Toronto Globe; Frank Patrick, Hod Stuart, Percy LeSueur, George Richardson, Tom Phillips, Howie Morenz, Frank Nighbor, Russell Bowie, Alf Smith, Fred "Cyclone" Taylor, Lionel Hitchman, Allan Davidson, Frank McGee, "Tough" Bellefleur, Ernie Johnson, Duke Keats, Jack Darragh, Sprague Cleghorn, Newey Lalonde, Bruce Stuart, Ching Johnson, George Hay, Bruce Redpath, Eddie Gerard, Frank Richardson, Eddie Shore, Bill Cook, Roy Worters, Aurel Joliat, Dick Irvin, Roy Noble, Cooney Weiland, Tim Thompson, Hughie Lehman, Babe Dye, Billy Gilmour, Nelson Stewart, Lester Patrick and Harry Cameron.

With both winter and summer meetings scheduled by the Aqua Caliente Jockey Club for the season of 1930-31, a twelve-day fall session in Texas; fall and spring racing at Tanforan; ten days in the spring at Del Monte and a twelve-day winter session at Pomona in the early summer, almost continuous far western and Pacific Coast horse racing looms for the first time.

The Aqua Caliente winter season of eighty-one days, starting on Christmas Day, with its seven stake events, headed by the "world's richest race," the $100,000 Aqua Caliente handicap, tops the list. The summer meeting will begin on July 4 and continue through Labor Day for a fifty-two day run.

Arlington Downs, the Waggoner track, midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, is to lead the fall schedule, and incidentally break the jump from the east. The eleven-day thoroughbred sport, from November 1 to 11. Following Arlington, the horsemen will move to Tanforan, where on November 15 the stakes will be open for twenty-five days of the sport of kings, winding up December 13. Then comes the Aqua Caliente opening on Christmas Day.

Del Monte has announced a ten day season following the closing at Aqua Caliente on March 29. Then Tanforan will swing into line for another twenty-five days, starting the latter part of April. Rumor has it that Pomona will give a twenty-five day season between the closing day at Tanforan and July 4, opening at Aqua Caliente.

Both Aqua Caliente and Tanforan supply numerous opportunities for stake horses and Del Monte proposes several feature races for next spring. Including a stakes chase classic which should attract "leapers" of top rank. Tanforan has reservations for nine hundred stallions for the fall meeting and the Aqua Caliente management anticipates filling their 1,436 stalls to capacity.

California breeding establishments produced more than one thousand yearlings which will be of racing age on January 1. The 1930 crop is expected to exceed this number.

City and Dockers Joint Leaders Face Stiff Opposition

Two Undelected Teams at Top of Saturday League Must Win in Order to Hold Positions; City Will Meet Saanich Thistles at Royal Athletic; Esquimalt Face Hustling Jokers at Central Park; Wests Meet C's in Third Match; Teams Closely Bunched.

A severe shake-up in the present standings of teams in First Division soccer may follow Saturday's scheduled matches. At the present time Victoria City and Esquimalt are tied for first place each having five points to its credit. Each club has won two games and drawn one. The Jokers are in third position one point behind. Saanich Thistles are in fourth position one point behind the Jokers. This week's matches bring together Victoria City and the Saanich Thistles at the Royal Athletic Park, Esquimalt and Jokers at Central Park and Victoria West and Five C's at Victoria West Park. All three matches will commence at 2:45 o'clock.

CITY AQUATIC STAR MAY TRY FOR NEW MARK

Y.M.C.A. Coaches Consider Applying For Sanction For Walker to Attempt Record Young Swimmer Coming Along Well Under Coach McFadyen

Possibility of applying for sanction to make an official attempt on the Canadian record for the men's 100-yard backstroke event, will be one of the British Columbia swimming gala at the Crystal Garden next month, was discussed by the association's aquatic group recently and will come up for further consideration at the club's meeting this evening.

Denny Walker, Victoria's fast moving junior, has been going through plenty of grooming under Coach Colin McFadyen and appears to be in good shape to make the attempt. It is hoped that the local boy will be up against stiff competition from Vancouver in the event, and should make a good stab at the mark if he is pressed. According to the 1928 record list the Canadian 100-yard backstroke mark is held by Tommy Walker of Montreal, who covered the distance, over four lengths of a twenty-five yard pool, in one minute ten and four-fifths seconds. While the figure is two years old, no definite word was available here as to whether it had been bettered since that date.

ONE OF B.C.'S BEST According to word from coaches, Walker is considered to be able to hold his own against any back-stroke swimmer in the province. Since the event will be one of the British Columbia championships on the gala programme, it is hoped that Vancouver's crack swimmers will be over to compete in the race.

In addition to the attempt at the Canadian record, several good competitions, including two other provincial championships will add interest to the programme.

In the men's three-metre B.C. diving competition Alan Stewart, Jack Bryden and Art Stott will oppose any threats to the title of the event.

The local boys are considered strong enough to shut out the mainlanders if they are at the top of their form when the contest is staged.

GOOD EVENTS Coaches Colin McFadyen and Archie McKinnon have drawn up a programme including four good contests for both men and women in the senior division and are considering one of two junior or school children's events.

In addition to the men's diving and the men's 100-yard backstroke, the women's 100-yard backstroke will also be a provincial title event.

The men's senior division of the programme will be rounded out with a 100-yard breast stroke and fifty-yard free-style races, while the women's will include a one-metre diving contest, fifty-yard backstroke and fifty-yard free-style sprints as well as the B.C. championship race.

To-night at 8 o'clock the Y.M.C.A. swimmers will workout at the association's pool under the direction of their coaches and will continue their practice until the day of the gala. In all departments the swimmers have shown improvement and should be able to give a good account of themselves. Immediately following the practice, the executive will meet to consider further arrangements for the meet.

Joe Davis Still Leading in O.C. Billiard Tourney
Liverpool, Eng., Oct. 22.—Joe Davis, the English champion, was still in the lead in 21,000 points at the close of yesterday's play in the international professional billiards tournament. Tom Newman, of England, was second with 19,022 and Clark McDonough, of New Zealand, third with 17,487. Walter Lindrum, of Australia, who spotted his opponents 7,000 points, was still trailing with 14,609, having made no appreciable gain on the leader. In all departments the swimmers have shown improvement and should be able to give a good account of themselves. Immediately following the practice, the executive will meet to consider further arrangements for the meet.

In order to hold their positions, the City and Esquimalt must both turn in victories, and this will be no easy task, as they both face stiff opposition. The Thistles have only lost one match this season, their initial defeat coming last week at the hands of the Jokers. Through a penalty shot in the last five minutes of the match, Jokers, Esquimalt's opponents, have also lost only one match.

ARE BOTH UNBEATEN Both Victoria City and Esquimalt so far boast unbeaten records. Last week Esquimalt scored a one-sided victory over the Five C's to go into a tie with the City for the league leadership, when the latter were battling to a draw with the Victoria West eleven.

Esquimalt will find plenty of opposition in the Jokers, a bunch of hustlers who fight from the drop of the hat and never know when they are licked. Esquimalt have a smooth working club composed of an even percentage of youngsters and veterans, the ideal combination.

The City-Saanich match should also be a keen one. The City, out to retain their unbeaten record, will do everything possible to turn back last year's champions. The Thistles after suffering their first defeat at the hands of the Jokers last week need a win in order to keep their position in the standings.

WESTS FAVORED Victoria West are heavy favorites to take the Five C's into camp and the Greenhairs with another two points to total will be right up with the leaders.

All in all it looks like the soccer programme for Saturday should produce some fine competition.

REVISION OF BALL RULES IS PLANNED

Scoring Rules in Particular Need Clarifying, Says National League Head

Committee of Baseball Writers Are Now Working on Number of Revisions

New York, Oct. 22.—There are far more important revisions needed in the baseball rules than the elimination of the sacrifice fly, in the opinion of John A. Heydler, of the National League.

Although refusing to comment on the suggestion of President E. S. Bernard, of the American League, that the sacrifice fly be banned, President Heydler predicted there would be a thorough revision of the rules at the December meeting of the two major leagues.

NEED CLARIFYING "Scoring rules in particular need clarifying," said the National League head, "so that the average fan can tell the difference between an error and a hit. The method of figuring pitchers' records also is in need of changing."

There is a committee of baseball writers working on the clarification of the rules, but I cannot say just what revisions they will recommend. Personally I prefer to remain out of any baseball discussion until the football season is over," said Heydler.

Topeka, Oct. 22.—Outboxing his opponent, Herbert "Baby" Stribling, Macdon, Ga., was given a newspaper decision over Joe Tabo, Kansas City welterweight, in a ten-round no-decision bout here yesterday evening.

Lacking any particular color, the bout was "decorated" by "Stribling's" jabbing and lightning-like punches.

Los Angeles and Hollywood Clash in First Game of Play-off To-day

Former Handicapped Through Injuries; Hollywood Defending Champions

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—With the Los Angeles squad handicapped by injuries to Fred Hauey and Frank Sigafos, both of whom will probably be absent in the opening game, the play-off series of the Pacific Coast League championship between the Angels and Hollywood starts to-day.

The first team winning four games will win the pennant, now held by the stars, and sixty per cent of the $10,000 goes to the losing club.

While Oscar Vitt, Hollywood manager, is confident of repeating last year's triumph to retain the flag, the fact remains that in regular season play the Angels have won twenty-nine games to Hollywood's eighteen.

Manager Jack Leibel will start either Ed Baecht or Carroll Yerkes on the mound with Harry Hannali catching. If Baecht starts, Hollywood probably will use Big Jim Turner. If Yerkes is the choice, Frank Shellenbach, "Spunk" Greiss, who got the call, Hank Severid will catch.

London and Windsor Only Canadian Clubs In Minor Hockey Loop

By Robert Edgren

London and Windsor Only Canadian Clubs In Minor Hockey Loop
Toronto Millionaires, Niagara Falls and Hamilton Tigers Will Not Be Starters in International Hockey League This Season; Niagara Franchise Moved to Pittsburgh; Failure to Obtain Support Forces Teddy Oke to Throw Up Toronto Team.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—London and Windsor remain Canada's only representatives in the International Hockey League. At the annual schedule meeting of the greatest minor hockey organization, held here yesterday, officials of the Toronto Millionaires, Niagara Falls Cataracts and the Hamilton Tigers confirmed reports that they did not wish to carry on.

The Niagara franchise has been moved to Pittsburgh, Pa., deserted by the Pirates, National Hockey League team which will play in Philadelphia this season. Pooling of Niagara and the B.C. branch of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association.

A bid by Saracuse interests for a league franchise resulted in the transferring of the Hamilton club to the New York state city. C. G. "Reddy" Oke, the Toronto hockey player, will not have a team here this year, due to failure of fans to support the Millionaires. He will retain his territorial rights here, however.

It is expected the three cities which have dropped out of the international will line up with the Can-pro league, organized last year.

Becomes Manager
Toronto, Oct. 22.—Frank Nighbor of Toronto Maple Leafs hockey team in the National League has been appointed manager of the Detroit Olympics, International squad, it became known here yesterday evening.

Connie Smythe, managing director of the Leafs, announced that Nighbor had been loaned to the Olympics. Nighbor replaces Frank Foyston, who refused the terms of offered him as manager of the team this season.

Odie Cleghorn was offered the managerial post of the Olympics but turned down the offer. Permission was then sought from the Leaf management to negotiate with Nighbor, with the result he accepted the offer and was loaned to the Olympics.

Harry Dillon Is Awarded Decision
Indianapolis, Oct. 22.—Harry Dillon, Winnipeg light-heavyweight, outpointed Chuck Burns, of San Antonio, in a ten-round boxing contest here yesterday evening. Dillon won a majority of the rounds although knocked down in the second and tenth rounds.

Jack McLaughlin, of Canada, defeated Des Anderson, of Portland, by a one-half-point margin in the final. Both are middleweights.

Malcewicz Uses Reverse Slam To Win Over McLeod
Tacoma, Oct. 22.—Joe Malcewicz, the Utica Panther, defeated George McLeod, of Nebraska, two falls out of three in the main wrestling exhibition here yesterday evening. Both are heavyweights. The Panther scored the first fall in the third round, while McLeod evened things up in the fifth. The bout ended forty-three seconds before the end of the sixth round when Malcewicz threw McLeod with his reverse body slam.

Rosenbloom Strong Favorite to Defeat Bain In Title Bout

World's Light-heavyweight Champion Will Meet Newark Youngster in Fifteen-round Bout at Madison Square Garden To-night; Champion Is 5 to 1 Favorite; Experts Mystified Over Bain's Selection for Championship Mix; Scarcity of Challengers in This Division.

New York, Oct. 22.—Abie Bain, Newark light-heavyweight, has picked a good spot to make his New York debut. He meets Maxie Rosenbloom, the Harlem clown, in a fifteen-round match for the light-heavyweight championship in Madison Square Garden to-night. Just how he was selected for the bout with Rosenbloom has been mystifying the experts. His most notable achievement is a decision he received over Rene de Vos, the Belgian fox.

Searching through the records, the experts are nicknaming Abie "Where-have-you-Bain," for the Newark youngster never appeared in a main bout before in the Garden or in other leading fight centres. He has confined most of his battling to the home town in Jersey.

Rosenbloom, conqueror of Jimmy Slattery in Buffalo last spring for the 175-pound crown, has had trouble finding suitable opposition in a class that has gone slightly to seed.

Bain, a rough, strong youngster, is given little chance to defeat Rosenbloom, and the wagering on the championship probably would be 5 to 1 if there were any wagering.

SCARCITY OF CHALLENGERS Rosenbloom's defence of his light-heavyweight championship against Bain serves as an excellent proof of the scarcity of first class 175-pounders at the present time.

Bain is a fair workman, but he does not appear to have a chance against Rosenbloom, a canny veteran who has slugged and roughed his way to victory over most of the good light-heavyweights in the last two or three years.

Only a year ago the division was filled with first-class fighting men, such as Tommy Loughran, Jimmy Slattery, Leo Lomski, Larry Johnson, Tuffy Griffiths, Jimmy Braddock, Rosenbloom and a host of others. Most of these abandoned the 175-pound class for the bigger game, none of them with conspicuous success.

The Bain-Rosenbloom bout will be over the championship route fifteen rounds. Joe Scalfaro, New York bantam, tackles Pete Santol of Norway in the ten-round semi-final. In the opening ten Willard Dix of Bellingham meets Bob Olin, New York heavyweight.

On Friday the V.H.S. high school will meet Brentwood College, while the following day University School will clash with Shawinigan.

To Hold Amateur Mile Events in Vancouver Next Year For Men and Women

Two Handsome Trophies Offered Similar Races on Prairies

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Part of a scheme to encourage amateur swimming throughout Canada, one mile races for B.C. championships will be staged in Vancouver next year, for two magnificent trophies proffered by the William Wrigley Jr. Co. There will be a race for men and another for women, the date and course being left to the B.C. branch of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association.

A. L. McDougall, manager of the Vancouver branch of the Wrigley Company, will confer with officials of the B.C.A.S.A. and the races will be staged completely under their supervision.

The decision to stage the events here comes after similar ones had been successfully held at Winnipeg last August. There the fine Wrigley trophy was won by Albert Fort, noted Canadian swimmer, with Ernie Taylor, second and Bob Hammett third.

Mary Lee won the women's section, beating Vera Tuston, Manitoba champion, over the mile distance.

TWO BIG TROPHIES
Mr. McDougall states the Wrigley Company is prepared to give two big trophies for permanent competition, the winners each year receiving miniature of the big cups. Medals, gold, silver and bronze will also be given for the first, second and third swimmer in each class.

It is proposed to stage similar races in Saskatchewan and Alberta, all four of the western provinces thus being covered.

The Vancouver meet would probably be put on in English Bay, with the finish at the big pier.

Victoria High Fifteen Will Oppose Brentwood College on Friday

Plenty of activity is promised senior high school rugby teams this winter, in spite of the withdrawal of University School from the intermediate league and the discontinuance of Thompson Cup play, which two or three years ago virtually constituted the classics of the inter-school competition.

This season Victoria High School, Brentwood College, University School, Shawinigan and Victoria College second team will be included in the league which was organized recently.

B.C. Will Be Represented In Western Rugby Play-offs

Deciding Series Will Get Started On Coast Nov. 15

British Columbia Champions Will Clash With Prairie Winners in Final for Western Gridiron Championship, Del Finlay, Secretary of Big Four, Announces; Will Be Best Two Out of Three Games; Arrangements Made for Play-offs Between Prairie Titleholders.

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—British Columbia will be represented in the Canadian Rugby Football Union play-offs this season, it was stated yesterday evening by Del Finlay, secretary of the British Columbia union. In discussing a Winnipeg dispatch which said the prairie champions would meet the British Columbia winners "if satisfactory financial arrangements could be made," Finlay said that the British Columbia union was willing to pay the guarantee the constitution called for if the champions of the prairies came here for the western finals, and expected the same guarantee if the British Columbia titleholders went to the prairies for the finals.

The Western Canada Rugby Union constitution says that when British Columbia teams play off with prairie winners the series shall be best two out of three games, and that the home team shall guarantee the visiting team one-half its actual transportation expenses and hotel bills for two days for each game played. After all expenses have been met, the balance is to be divided equally between the competing clubs.

WANT FAIR SHARE

Finlay claims that the British Columbia union made such an offer to the Regina Roughriders, last fall, but the prairie winners replied they would come here for $1,800, but in turn offered the British Columbia winners only $400 to go to the prairies. As a result British Columbia passed up the series.

"This season, however," said Finlay, "the British Columbia Rugby Union is going to see that its clubs get a square deal. Our case will be stated in full to leading officials of the Western Canada union at Winnipeg and Calgary, and also to officials of the Canadian union at Toronto.

"British Columbia will most certainly be represented in the play-offs, and if satisfactory financial arrangements can be laid down in the constitution cannot be met by or are turned down by the prairie winners, then we will claim the Western title by default."

Winnipeg, Oct. 22.—Rugby play-offs for senior and junior titles in Western Canada will start Saturday, November 1, a schedule given out yesterday evening by Arnold Dowd, of Winnipeg, secretary of the Western Canada Rugby Football Union, stated.

Winnipeg, St. John's, Manitoba champions, will meet Regina Roughriders, champions of Saskatchewan, in the first senior conflict. The game will be played at Regina.

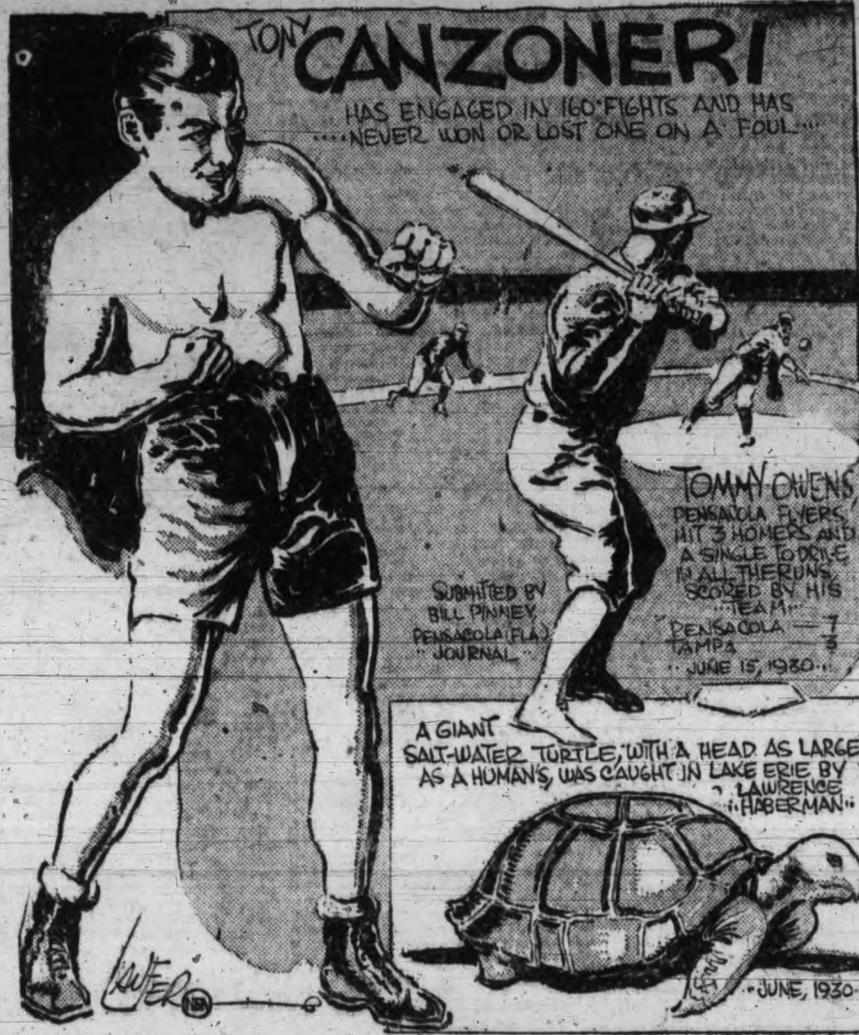

Winners of the St. John's-Roughriders game are scheduled to play Alberta's champions in the far prairie province on November 10, Thanksgiving Day. Calgary Tigers, at present leading the Alberta contenders, may clinch honors Saturday.

ARRANGING FOR B. C. SERIES

Possibility of a series, including the British Columbia champions, is held out as the schedule calls for games between the prairie winners and the coast titles in Vancouver on November 15 and 17. A third game, if necessary, would be played on November 10. It will be a best two-out-of-three series and depends upon satisfactory financial arrangements being made with the British Columbia union.

Saskatchewan's new junior champions, Saskatoon Hilltops, are slated to play their first interprovincial game against the Alberta champions on November 1. The game will be played on the home grounds of the Alberta team. The Western junior final will be played in Winnipeg between the further-west winners and Manitoba's champions.

MORGAN WINS VERDICT FROM H. M'DONALD

Former Junior Lightweight Champ Hands Vancouver Boy Decisive Drubbing

Morgan Shows More Aggressive Style; Paulie Walker Scores One-round K.O.

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—Returning to the wars from his Orange County Avocado Ranch, Tod Morgan, former junior lightweight champion, to-day once more was perched among the elite of the boxing world—this time as a full fledged lightweight. In a fast ten-round boxing match here last night he decisively defeated Hector McDonald, Vancouver, B.C., 137 pounder.

Boxing with all his old time skill, Morgan also displayed a style much more aggressive than formerly. He started out fast and hardly appeared in danger of losing at any time during the bout. In the middle frames McDonald spurted to take two rounds and break even in another but the tally failed to daunt the former champion. Stepping on it a bit himself he annexed the next three frames in order and got the decision easily.

Morgan weighed 136½ pounds.

ONE-ROUND K.O.

Paulie Walker, New York, broke into local lightweight ranks with a bank, putting away Sammy Aguirre, veteran Los Angeles Mexican, in the first round of a scheduled ten-round display of a scuffling speed afoot, Walker tied Aguirre up in a knot and then drummed home a series of machine gun lefts and rights to win the fight by a clean knockout.

Jack Hendricks Is "Out" at Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Jack Hendricks, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds, but more recently Pacific Coast scout for the Chicago Cubs, is "out" at Chicago, he admitted when he attended the last game of the series in St. Louis.

"My connection with the Cubs terminated when Joe McCarthy left the team as manager," Hendricks said. "I enjoyed my affiliation with the Chicago team, but when Joe got out and Hornsby took his place, my contract came to an end."

Former Ring Idol Goes to Jail For Part in Hold-up

Seattle, Oct. 22.—Johnny Jordan, once a popular prize ring idol, was sentenced to serve six to fifteen years in the state penitentiary yesterday for participating in a $40,000 daylight hold-up of the diamond firm of Lowenstein and Rothstein here a year ago.

Jordan was arrested in New York several months after the robbery and returned here. He implicated several others in the robbery but authorities dismissed them after investigation.

BILLIARDS

Britannia Branch "C" and Veterans of France "B" squads captured honors in the interservice Billiard League games played in the different club-rooms yesterday evening. The Britannia "C" men gained their decision over a "D" squad from the same organization by a score of 357 to 311.

In the "B" fixture, the Veterans of France scored 600 against 507 of their opponents, the Pro Patria.

Scores follow:

Britannia "C"	Pro Patria
B. Burdick 100	H. Pearson 97
J. Primrose 42	J. Anderson 100
W. Campbell 100	J. Corrie 100
A. Allen 81	S. Dyke 100
Total 312	Total 357
Veterans of France "B"	Pro Patria "B"
T. Southern 150	A. Moffat 145

Hatzlaff Scores Technical K.O. Over Red Uhlman

Portland, Ore., Oct. 22.—Herman Hatzlaff, Minot, N.D., scored a technical knockout over Red Uhlman, Oakland, Calif., in the fourth round of their ten-round main event fight here yesterday evening. Hatzlaff led all the way. He dropped Uhlman for a count of four in the third round and knocked him down twice in the fourth round before the referee stopped the fight. Hatzlaff weighed 163; Uhlman 167.

Frankie Warnke, 171, Portland, won a decision over Art Meyer, 175, Portland, in the six-round semi-final.

Joe Saunderson Sent to Duluth By Oakland Team

Brookville, Ont., Oct. 22.—Joe Saunderson, for the past two years a member of the Oakland, Cal. hockey club and previous to that for two years a member of the Saskatoon Shamrocks of the Western Canada League, will this year be a member of the Duluth club in the American Association.

He has been traded by Oakland to the Duluth club and will report to Duluth for training November 1.

ZORILLA AND TAYLOR DRAW

Junior Lightweights Put on Whirlwind Bout at Seattle; Alberson Draws

Seattle, Oct. 22.—In their fourth meeting with the padded gloves, Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., and Santiago Zorilla, Panama, junior lightweight, fought a whirlwind eight-round draw here yesterday evening. The score sheet now stands Taylor two victories, Zorilla one, and the last a draw.

Jack Silver, new Seattle heavyweight, scored a victory over Eddie Gross, Seattle heavyweight, who substituted for Earl Beede, Portland; Carl Johnson, Spokane, drew with Kim Alberson, Seattle; Red Barbour, Seattle, gained a technical knockout over Billy Baker, Vancouver, B.C., in the first round, and Mike Grillo, Seattle welterweight, scored a technical knockout over Panama Coker, Olympia, in the second round.

King Levinsky Is Matched With Jimmy Slattery

Chicago, Oct. 22.—King Levinsky, Chicago's rugged, two-fisted light heavyweight, will get a chance to prove his mettle November 6 by clashing in a ten-round match with Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo.

The match, to be fought at catch weights, was closed yesterday as an added attraction at the Chicago Stadium for the Otto Von Forst-Jack Renault battle. Levinsky, pride of Chicago's Ghetto, has been bowling over his opponents with ease, but most of them have been recognized second-raters. His match with Slattery will be his first acid test in the ring.

International Hockey League Opens on Nov. 13

Toronto, Oct. 22.—The International Hockey League season will open at Pittsburgh on November 13, when the London Panthers will provide the opposition, according to the schedule announced after yesterday's meeting. Buffalo will get into action at Windsor, November 14, and on November 15 six of the seven teams will be engaged. Pittsburgh at Buffalo, London at Cleveland and Detroit at Syracuse. Two player deals were announced yesterday. Carl Voss, the property of the Toronto Maple Leafs, will appear in a Buffalo uniform next winter, while Percy Quessett of Niagara Falls has been purchased by the London Panthers.

Al Simmons Hits Last Ball Out Of Park to End Game

Milwaukee, Oct. 22.—While Al Simmons has broken up several ball games, he has never done it in just this way. In an exhibition game here with Earnshaw and Fox, fellow Athletic teammates, Simmons came to bat. The score was 13 to 6 in favor of the team for which Fox was then pitching. Simmons ended the ball game—completely—by lifting one of Fox's bases out of the park and a block away.

It was the last available baseball. Search of nearby drugstores failed to reveal even a kid's ball, and of course the sporting goods stores were closed. Anyway, it was only an exhibition affair, and the final drive was in the ninth inning, so play was ended.

Gagnon Defeats O'Kelly and Will Battle Stribling

Boston, Oct. 22.—Jack Gagnon, Boston heavyweight, outslugged aggressive Con O'Kelly, former Irish champion, here yesterday evening in a furious ten-round battle. The victory entitled Gagnon to a battle with Young Stribling here on October 31. Gagnon weighed 192 and O'Kelly scaled 194.

THIS SAFE BABY MILK SOLVES VACATION NEED

Do I dare to take the baby? How often I have heard anxious mothers ask that question—mothers who have needed the change of a restful vacation at the lake or seashore but have been afraid to expose a tiny baby to the dangers of a doubtful milk supply.

Well, this summer Mother can go—and take the baby—with a carefree heart and a clear conscience. For some of the greatest authorities are now recommending as the very best milk for bottle-fed babies, a milk that you can get anywhere and that can't possibly cause those intestinal infections that so often come from milk obtained in localities where the health precautions are not absolutely reliable.

Safe—and more digestible

This baby-saving milk is unsweetened evaporated milk. It is absolutely safe because it is first sealed in air-tight cans and then sterilized, destroying all bacteria. It is safe wherever you buy it—you can get it at the most primitive country store and know that your baby's milk will be perfectly pure and wholesome.

And not only pure. For this wonderful milk is actually more digestible than milk in any other form. It forms softer, flakier curds, marvelously like those formed by mother's milk. And the large fat globules that make ordinary milk hard to digest are broken up by a process called "homogenization," each one divided into a thousand infinitesimally tiny ones that cannot tax the baby's delicate stomach.

Vitamins and minerals too

Unsweetened evaporated milk is the full nutritional equal of the best bottled milk. It contains all the vitamins that any milk is dependent on to supply, needing only the usual supplements such as orange juice and cod-liver oil. And it is a splendid source of the minerals that build the bones and teeth.

You can get the best of evaporated milk anywhere by simply asking for Carnation Milk. The famous milk from "contented cows" is especially good for babies because of the care that is taken to protect it at every step from the dairy farm till it reaches your baby's bottle. Its quality is so uniform that every feeding has the correct food value.

You can't imagine, till you have tried it, how convenient this milk is. Just think—you don't have to pasteurize it, for it is already sterilized. You just mix it cold with pure water and sugar (or simple formulas) and pour it into the bottles. Send for Carnation Baby-Feeding Chart, which tells more about this superior milk. Let your physician give you the correct formula and then pack up Baby—and go vacationing to your heart's content. Just drop me a post card and I'll send the Chart; also my Cook Book. Address me in care of the Carnation Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

AND REMEMBER

When travelling or vacationing, the safest milk for baby's bottle is Carnation. It nourishes perfectly, too, and is more digestible than cow's milk in any other form.

OLD SAVOYARD IS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Sir Henry Lytton Feted at Luncheon in London Yesterday

Noted Gilbert and Sullivan Principal Well Known Here

By Thos. S. Champion, Canadian Press Correspondent
London, Oct. 22.—Five hundred persons attended a birthday luncheon given yesterday in honor of Sir Henry Lytton, commemorating the knight-hood recently bestowed upon him and his forty-six years of active association with Gilbert and Sullivan opera. Sir Henry is well-known in Canada and other parts of the Empire visited by the Savoy Company.

Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George presided and the company ranged from several "peers of noble station" to obscure representatives of "the lower middle classes." Five years ago Lytton was a strolling player, enduring trials as hard as those of poor Jack Point, whom he has so often represented on the boards. In 1884 he made his first appearance as a Savoy opera singer in "Ruddigore," relinquishing suddenly by the great George Grossmith, Lytton's versatility in the leading characters of Gilbert and Sullivan is remarkable.

Sir Henry has appeared more than 5,000 times in "The Mikado" and 10,000 in other characters. He is a happy company of Gilbert and Sullivan lovers, that gathered yesterday. Lord Sankey, Lord High Chancellor, was prevented from coming at the last moment but sent a telegram addressed "to the most celebrated Lord Chancellor of our time." Sir Henry scored when he rendered a couple of items for the repertoire which brought him so much honor.

The waters were attired in the costumes of the "Pirates of Penzance." Sweet, But Short
"She said she lived happily with her husband until after their first quarrel. When was that?"
"As they left the church on their wedding day."

Federal Fuel Body Studies Coal Position

F. G. Nestle, executive secretary of the Dominion Fuel Board, Monday met leading British Columbia coal producers and provincial officials at an informal conference at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Nestle explained his visit to the coast to be due to the desire of the Dominion Fuel Board to gather information as to the British Columbia coal industry.

To assist in this work, M. D. McLean of Fernie has been temporarily appointed to the staff of the board. Mr. Nestle said that British Columbia coal operators could expect every cooperation from Federal sources in attaining solution of existing marketing problems. Attending the conference with Mr. Nestle were Hon. W. A. McKenzie, minister of mines, Robert Dunn, deputy minister of mines; J. D. Galloway, provincial mineralogist, and James Dickson, chief inspector of mines. Col. C. W. Villiers, general manager of the Canadian Collieries; W. R. Wilson, president of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company; and G. R. Saunders of the Crow's Nest Collieries.

FUNDS NEEDED FOR CHURCHES ON PRAIRIES

Regina Pastor Visiting Toronto Tells of United Mission Fields' Problems

Toronto, Oct. 22.—As an illustration of the shortage of home mission funds for work on the prairies, Rev. George Dorey, B.A., of Regina, who is here to attend the home mission executive conference of the United Church of Canada, said he knew of a minister who was called to a charge at $1,000 a year and who had received only $125.00 in the last three months.

"He will be fortunate to get $1,000 from his people owing to economic conditions," declared Mr. Dorey. "We in western Canada are not complaining, but we do think retrenchment has gone far enough. He has not been wasting money and we have not had overlapping, so the closing of the manse means the loss of established fields."

ROYALTIES WILL ATTEND RITES

Two Kings and Two Queens at Royal Wedding at Assisi Saturday

Assisi, Italy, Oct. 22.—Two reigning kings, Boris III and Victor Emmanuel, one reigning queen, Elena, one queen-to-be, Giovanna, and one former queen, Sophie of Greece, will gather in St. Francis of Assisi for the wedding of Princess Giovanna and Boris Saturday morning. In addition, there will be present no less than thirty-five princes and princesses of the blood.

All of those of the House of Savoy, with their consorts, will be present except the Prince of Sardinia, who is representing the king at the Abyssinian coronation, and the Duke of Spoleto, who is still convalescent after a motor boat accident at Venice recently.

This is in marked contrast to the wedding of Crown Prince Humbert and Princess Marie Jose of the Belgians last January, where the number of former monarchs exceeded those actually reigning. The reason for this is that Giovanna's wedding is considered more of a family affair than the marriage of the heir to the throne, and the speed with which arrangements are being completed and the smallness of the hilltop on which the wedding will take place precluded more being asked.

BABY PRINCESS GOES TO LONDON

Duke and Duchess of York and Family Return to Town

London, Oct. 22.—Little Princess Margaret Rose, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, came to London for first time yesterday, traveling on the Abyssinian express with her parents and sister, Princess Elizabeth.

A crowd of women and girls were gathered at Euston station. The object of their curiosity and homage took but one glance at London, "turned over in her white Shetland shawl and was fast asleep as a marmalade tin as the family off home to 145 Piccadilly.

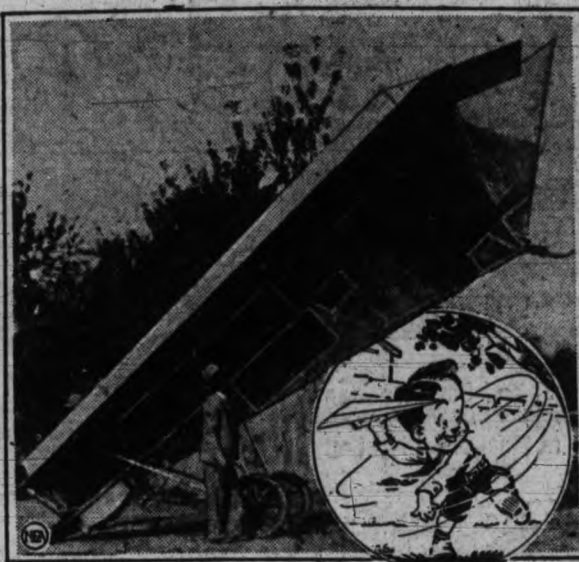

Princess Elizabeth in a pale blue dress did the honors of the occasion by holding an informal reception on the station platform for official and friends.

COURT TO DECIDE BOWEN APPEAL

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Judgment was reserved by the B.C. Court of Appeal until Friday on the appeal of Alfred Daniel Bowen, aged sixty-five, from a conviction in County Court by Judge Cayley, who imposed a sentence of two years' imprisonment in the New Westminster Penitentiary.

Bowen, former president of the Bowen Utilities Corporation Ltd., Vancouver, was found guilty last February of publishing false statements pertaining to the affairs of his company. Since he appealed from the conviction and sentence, Bowen has been out on bail.

BUILDS PLANE LIKE PAPER DART

This airplane, built like a child's paper dart, which the inventor, Roy B. Scroggs of Eugene, Ore., claims will revolutionize aircraft design, is to take the air soon for its first test. The wingspread tapers from six feet in the front to eighteen feet in the rear and affords, he says, improved lifting capacity. After working ten years on the job, Scroggs has named his plane "The Last Laugh."

Metchosin

Miss Violet Clarke entertained on Saturday at the home of her mother, Mrs. G. W. Clarke, with a novelty Egyptian tea. Those present were: Misses Norman Weir, Nora Helgesen, Valerie and Edith Ellwood, Bonnie Bolton, Gladys and Marie Snyder, and K. Baird of Victoria, who was a week-end guest of Miss Violet Clarke. A very pleasant evening was spent with games and contests.

Mrs. Inskip of Kamloops and her Helgesen.

daughter, Cora, are guests of Mrs. Inskip's brother-in-law, T. F. Helgesen. Capt. Barclay is away on a business trip.

Major Pennington returned home on Saturday from Revelstoke. E. R. Johnson is spending a few weeks in Vancouver.

The conveners of the committee in charge of the W.I. Pioneer entertainment which is to be held on Friday, October 24, at the hall, report that all arrangements are completed. A very satisfactory rehearsal of the musical programme was held on Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Metchosin.

COMMITTEE FOR BIG CAMPAIGN IS OPTIMISTIC

Decides to Ask Municipalities and City to Aid Red Cross and Armistice Fund

With delegates appointed to canvass Oak Bay and Saanich, and the decision reached to ask all municipalities surrounding Victoria, as well as the city itself, for grants to assist the Armistice Period Committee and Red Cross campaign here, optimism was shown at a special meeting of the committee in charge of the drive yesterday evening. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce.

The speakers at the meeting, which was presided over by Fred Landsberg, noted the good work the Armistice Period Committee and the Red Cross had carried on since their inauguration. They pointed to the fact that through the activities of these organizations the cities and municipalities had been freed to a certain extent of the necessity of supporting indigent veterans when they or their families became ill. There was still a great need for more collectors, it was announced.

Commander Slingby stated he would be responsible for the soliciting in Oak Bay, while Rev. Malcolm Bruce and ex-Reeve Crouch agreed to cover Saanich for the campaign.

Announcement was made that the committee had secured the use of radio station CFCF for short addresses two nights a week. H. Despard Twigg, M.P.P., was appointed chairman of a committee to provide speakers. To keep the campaign to the fore, the committee decided to ask advertisers to mention it in their regular advertising displays. Mrs. Lampan and Mrs. Bullock-Webster undertook the work of attempting to secure this concession. Another meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow evening.

DREADED GOING TO ENGLAND

Lumbago Always Crippled Him NOW KRUSCHEN KEEPS HIM FREE

England hasn't any monopoly in Lumbago. Yet, although this engineer has lived in many parts of the world, it was always when he went home to England that lumbago attacked him. Eventually he tried Kruschen, and now—living permanently in England—keeps free from his old trouble. He gives us permission to publish this: "I some time ago spent ten years in China, and every time I came home on leave I was crippled with lumbago. About nine years ago I came to England to reside permanently. Wishing to keep clear of the trouble, I started a course of your Kruschen Salts exactly as prescribed on the label, taking same in my breakfast coffee each day. During these nine years, apart from one mild attack about four years ago, I have been entirely free from Lumbago and in good health. You may make what use you wish of the above, with the understanding that my name is not published."—N. B. A.M.I.E.E.

Lumbago, Rheumatism and all other uric acid complaints can be traced—in nine cases out of ten—to intestinal stasis (delay). Poisons bred in the accumulated waste enter the blood and cause all kinds of trouble. The unfailing effect of Kruschen is to rid the intestinal tract of all clogging waste matter. Your pains ease, then disappear. And so long as a condition of internal cleanliness is maintained by the "little daily dose," you will really enjoy life—because the six salts in Kruschen keep the system sweet and clean—the eyes bright and the brain active and alert.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

JAIL INQUIRY

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 22.—Investigation of a charge of "grave negligence of duty" laid against Ernest Hopgood, chief turnkey at the Essex County Jail in Sandwich, has been ordered by the Provincial Secretary, who has asked for reports from Governor John Warden and Sheriff C. N. Anderson. Hopgood has not been suspended during the investigation, according to the word received here from the office of the Provincial Secretary.

EMPRESS OF SCOTLAND IS NOW RETIRED

Well-known C.P.R. Atlantic Liner Makes Last Trip; Is Offered For Sale

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Twenty-five years of service on the North Atlantic were terminated recently with the arrival at Southampton of the liner Empress of Scotland from Quebec. She made her first voyage to the St. Lawrence in 1905, though he had long been a popular ship under the name of Kaiserin Augusta Victoria on the Hamburg-New York route.

Built by the Vulcan Company of Stettin in 1905, she was to have borne the name Empress, but this was changed when the German Empire consented to christen her. Her original gross tonnage was 24,581 but this was later increased to 25,037 by additions deemed necessary for the Canadian trade. The Kaiserin Augusta Victoria was in Hamburg when the Great War broke out and the German authorities had hoped to be able to use her as a transport for an opportunity to invade Britain. With other merchant ships she was surrendered to the Allies in 1919, and carried many United States troops from Brest to New York. Transferred to the British in 1919, the ship was operated by the Cunard Line for some time and then passed into the hands of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company, who reconditioned her. It was the success of this vessel when chartered to a U.S. tourist agency which turned the attention of the Canadian Pacific to this class of business.

The vessel has been offered for sale and will probably pass from the sea to the shipbreakers. In her day the Empress of Scotland was considered one of the most luxurious ships afloat and she was very popular during the nine years that she sailed out of Quebec.

Mishima Maru Has Only One More Voyage

Another ship of the N.Y.K. fleet on the North Pacific is destined to make only one more call here before leaving for another service. It was announced in Victoria this morning. The liner Mishima Maru will arrive here on the Orient on November 20 and will

FREIGHTER IS STILL ON ROCKS

Salvage King and Fleet of Tugs and Barges Alongside Stranded Henry S. Grove

Fuel Oil and Cargo Being Lightered to Tenders Before Attempt to Release Ship

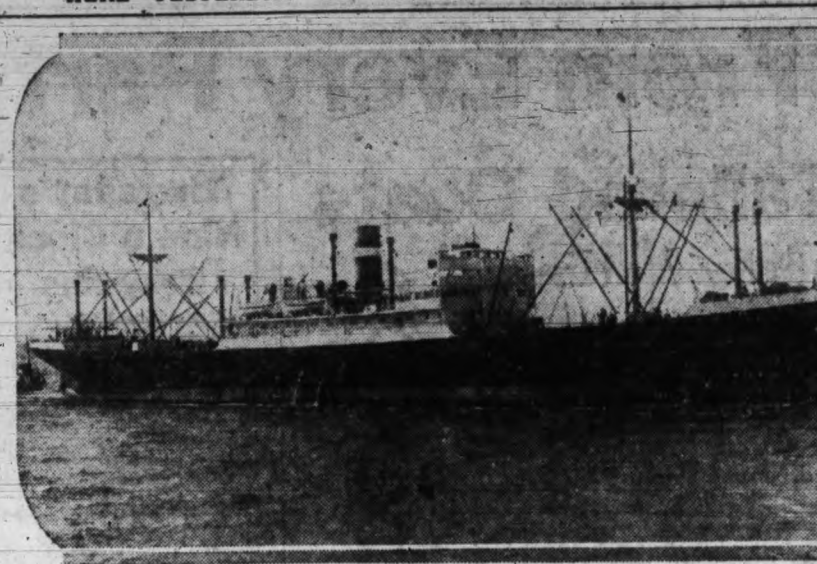

The United States freighter Henry S. Grove, is still high and dry on the rocks of Potosi Island, in the Gulf of Georgia and is unable to remain so for several days. It was reported here this morning. Cargo and fuel oil was being lightered before another attempt will be made to pull the 6,000-ton ship from her perch.

The salvage king from Victoria, along with two Victoria tugs, the Burrard Chief and the Island Comet, as well as two Vancouver tugs and a Seattle tug and two scows are standing alongside the stranded freighter.

The Burrard Chief and the Island Comet left Victoria last night for the scene and had not returned up to noon today. They brought out stores and food supplies from Victoria for the crew of the salvage king. George Cary of the Cary Tug and Barge Company of Seattle was in Victoria this morning and said his company had dispatched two large scows and a tug to the scene of the stranding to remove fuel oil and part of the cargo aboard. In Mr. Cary's opinion the Grove is hard ashore and it will be a difficult salvage job to get her into deep water again. In the meantime the rocks are putting holes in her bottom and she is taking water in No. 1 hold.

The Vancouver salvage steamer Helix No. 2, is still alongside the sunken tugboat Island Planet of Victoria in Sea Otter Cove on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, just south of Cape Scott. Weather conditions in the cove are not dependable and the crew of the salvage ship is forced to work irregularly.

HERE YESTERDAY ON MAIDEN VOYAGE FROM EUROPE

MS. DAMSTERDYK of the Holland-America Line, which was here yesterday morning, inbound to Vancouver from Europe on her maiden voyage. During the morning many Victorians visited the ship and were greatly impressed with the magnificent accommodation for the thirty passengers which the new liner can carry. The Damsterdyk is a sister ship to the Herfildy, which made her maiden voyage about a year ago and which has called here several times since. Capt. G. C. Kalk, one of the most genial masters calling at this port, and formerly on the company's freighter Blatdyk, was in command of the Damsterdyk when she arrived here yesterday.

FRENCH LINE CHANGES MADE

Captain of Atlantic Liner France Gets Important North African Position

Word was received recently from the Paris headquarters of the French Line for Canada and the United States, of the appointment of Capt. Jean Simon, captain of the steamer France, to a new shore post of great importance in the company's North African tours organization, the Societe des Voyages et Hotels Nord-Africains, which operates the Barbary land cruises.

Capt. Simon, who is well known to thousands of Canadian and United States ocean travelers through having commanded the St. Paul and the France, has been appointed regional manager of the motor tours organization throughout all French North Africa, embracing Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia and the Sahara.

Capt. Simon's place in command of the France has been taken by Capt. Georges Burrows, for the last few years

SHIP CRASHES INTO ELEVATOR

San Francisco Shipping

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—Further assurance that the crisis threatening the inter-coastal trade has subsided was received yesterday by John E. Cushing, vice-president of the American Hawaiian Steamship Company and other Pacific Coast shipping executives are awaiting word from Robert C. Thayer, chairman of the United States Intercoastal conference, to proceed to New York or some point in the Middle West shortly for a final conference meeting to adjust all differences. Cushing intimated the major stumbling block impeding the intercoastal operation of the conference has been eliminated.

The ship will not be delayed more than twenty-four hours by the accident, it is declared. Her stem is bent, but it will be repaired in England when she concludes her voyage.

SEA CADETS IN NEW DRILL HALL AT OUTER DOCKS

Lieut.-Governor Bruce Opened Fine New Quarters Yesterday Afternoon

Naval Authorities and I.O.D.E. Also Attend Opening Ceremony

The Rainbow Sea Cadet Corps of the Victoria branch of the Navy League of Canada is to-day at home in its new headquarters in one of the Rithet buildings at the outer dock, the remodeled hall having been officially opened yesterday afternoon by His Honor the Lieut.-Governor in the presence of naval officials of Canada, members of the corps, members of the Navy League and a large gathering of people interested in the work being carried on by the league. His Honor was accompanied by Miss Mackenzie, Lady Rosalind Northcote and A. M. D. Fairbairn, while in the naval party were Commodore Walter Hose, chief of the naval staff at Ottawa and Commander L. W. Murray, senior naval officer at the Esquimalt naval barracks. The Victoria branch of the Navy League is deeply grateful to Rithet Consolidated Limited, through whose courtesy and generosity the Sea Cadets will occupy the building for a term of ten years.

In declaring the building open, His Honor told the gathering how delighted he was to be asked to officiate on so auspicious an occasion in the life of the navy at Victoria. He commended the league for its great work with the youth of this city and said that in the youth road largely the welfare and the future of Canada. In training young boys for the navy and mercantile marine, the Navy League was doing a great thing. His Honor said, for on the sea rested a large amount of the prosperity of a country. The British navy had always been dependable and always would be. His Honor said, and it was kept up this spirit that the Navy League is doing such fine work.

TO TELL OTTAWA

Commodore Hose, in addressing the gathering spoke briefly of the days when he was stationed at Esquimalt as commander of one of Canada's first warships, H.M.C.S. Rainbow. He said how happy he was that the Sea Cadet Corps of Victoria, which city the Rainbow so well, should be named after the old ship. He was greatly pleased with the appearance of the Victoria cadets and said that where he returned to Ottawa, he would have a good report to make of them to other officials of the navy, particularly Admiral W. O. Storey, who is always interested in the building and doings of the navy on the west coast.

CAPT. ROBINSON ADDRESSES CLUB

Commander of Empress of Japan Tells Clubmen of Vancouver His Experiences

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 22.—Capt. Samuel Robinson, C.B.E., R.N.R., a hero of the Yokohama earthquake disaster of 1923, when his ship, the Empress of Japan, was wrecked in a fire-ravaged harbor to rescue thousands of threatened lives, yesterday broke silence on his interesting thirty-five years' service in Canada Pacific ships between Vancouver and Victoria and the Far East.

The stocky commander of the new Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, largest and fastest ship on the Pacific, as Trafalgar Day speaker before the transportation bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, refrained, however, from any mention of his Yokohama exploits which earned him the C.B.E. and a string of other decorations.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, who has been in the city since Monday, left by this afternoon's boat for Vancouver en route to the East.

Under the auspices of Quadra P.T.A. a card game will be held in the school annex to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. Progressive 500 will be played. Prizes will be given and refreshments served.

"Across Canada," an educational moving picture film, will be presented by the C.M.B. at 8 o'clock to-night in Oaklands United Church, Gosworth Road.

Detectives to-day were investigating a report that the Sandringham Tea-rooms, Government Street were broken into yesterday evening. Approximately $4.50 in cash was taken. It was reported, and the prowlers missed a much larger sum.

Co-operation in a scheme to have a central registration office for needy persons in the city this winter is sought by the Victoria Unit, Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, from various organizations interested. It is planned to bring all relief work done by different bodies under the central bureau.

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving to the common danger on Yates Street, Basil Peden was fined $20 in City Police Court this morning. Chief of Police John Fry said accused passed three cars at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour.

The members of Dominion Lodge No. 4, I.O.O.F., are requested to make a special effort to be present at the meeting on Thursday evening when the work of the third degree will be exemplified, after which refreshments will be served in the dining-room. Visiting brothers will be welcome.

Angus McKay of Victoria, who entered but four exhibits, won four prizes in the Vancouver Horticultural Society's chrysanthemum show held last week. At the show, which is the first of its kind held in British Columbia, the local grower won two firsts and two seconds.

Znamensky, well-known Russian baritone, will be soloist for the Victoria Ladies' Choir at its first concert on Thursday, November 13, in the Shrine Hall. Two years ago, when filling engagements for the Canadian Pacific Railway, his singing won him many local admirers, and his forthcoming visit is much looked forward to.

The popular dances of the C.P.R. Social and Athletic Club will be continued Thursday with another dance in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel. Those already held have proved very successful and there is every indication that the enjoyable series will again take their place in the winter entertainments of the city.

The first meeting of the whole student-body of Victoria College took place this morning on the occasion of the mid-term meeting of the Alma Mater Society. Reports were given by the various members of the Students' Council and the treasurer's report adopted. A. Plova, the treasurer, then explained the use to which the Alma Mater fee was put and how it was used for the sinking fund.

A half-hour lecture on social signals given yesterday afternoon to the pupils of the Girls' Central School by Major F. V. Longstaff proved very entertaining. Special emphasis was given to Nelson's famous signal, "England expects that every man will do his duty," which, the speaker said, took twenty minutes to send. About thirty lantern slides were used to illustrate the talk.

An additional twenty-six acres "labeled" the north of the city of Victoria have been added to the University of British Columbia Endowment Block. It was announced yesterday by Hon. F. P. Burton, Minister of Lands, Mr. Burton said that the relative location of the existing units in the block lessened the sales value of the property, and the buying for the purposes of development of the new twenty-six-acre unit, which is situated closer to the city than any of the other units, would make unnecessary the drive through an uninhabited stretch to the University. The addition was made at the suggestion of the real estate men of Vancouver, he said.

CHEQUE ARTIST GETS ONE YEAR

Sentence of one year hard labor was imposed by Magistrate George Jay on I. derick E. Farrell, who pleaded guilty in City Police Court this morning to a charge of obtaining money by false pretences.

Farrell has recently completed a three months' term for a similar offence in Vancouver, police records show.

It was alleged to have cashed a bogus cheque for $50 with the manager of a local hotel. One cheque was signed with the name of H. P. Silverthorne, and prior to cashing it at the hotel, accused had phoned the manager and represented himself to be Mr. Silverthorne, stating he was sending a man in with a cheque. When the accused came to the hotel the cheque was cashed.

In passing sentence, the Magistrate pointed out the accused had not only cashed a worthless cheque but also a forged cheque.

Farrell was apprehended by Detectives W. Calwell and J. Rogers.

Stephen Jones Returns Home From California

Stephen Jones, proprietor of the Dominion Hotel, after spending several weeks with his son, Steve Jr. in California, returned to the city to-day. He went south to place his daughter, Frances, in school at Mills College, near Oakland, Cal.

Mr. Jones spent some time in San Francisco and Los Angeles and took a jaunt over to Catalina Island to see the Whitley re-accused. He also had the pleasure of seeing Helen Willis Moody win the California tennis championship at Berkeley.

Vancouver Trade Board Enjoying Co-operation With Victoria Chamber

Delegation of Forty From Mainland Body Expresses Desire to Continue Work With Victorians in Interests of Province; Visit Here Gesture of Goodwill Between Organizations; Lieut.-Governor Bruce and Others Heard at Luncheon To-day.

Minister To Talk On Educational Problems To-morrow

As an indication of the good will and desire for co-operation existing between the Vancouver Board of Trade and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, forty delegates from the former body visited the local organization to-day and enjoyed a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce. During the forenoon the Vancouver delegates heard Victoria's case on the West Coast road and park project.

Lieutenant-Governor Bruce and a number of other speakers addressed the gathering. Representatives of the visiting group paid tribute to the work of the Victoria body, and expressed their desire to work with the city in developing B.C.

Greetings to the Vancouver Board were expressed by G. B. Fowler, president of the Victoria Chamber, who said the visit illustrated the good will and co-operation shown between the two bodies.

In introducing Lieut.-Governor Bruce Mr. Fowler announced that the Vancouver delegates were invited to tea at Government House as His Honor's guests.

In his remarks His Honor noted the value of co-operation between the two boards.

"We are becoming more and more cognizant of the necessity of co-operation and interdependence among the provinces of Canada," he stated.

He likened the present economic crisis to that existing after the Napoleonic wars. Increased production followed those conflicts and glutted the market, as it did to-day.

His Honor referred to the Corn Laws and their repeal in 1832. From that date, up to the present depression, England's condition improved and was assisted by a great emigration programme from the British Isles.

Large orders were being placed by Canadian firms in Great Britain. His Honor, stating the Hon. the Nichol Thompson organization of Vancouver had overlooked the matter of seven per cent. in placing an order with an English concern. He urged the purchase of this Empire preference, and stated that bright days might be attained as a result of the policy.

"In British Columbia we have special features: the vast resources of the north which we may exploit, and a great east with which we may develop trade. With constructive forces behind us we look forward to a prosperous future," His Honor concluded.

High tribute was paid by R. D. Williams, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade and member of the Vancouver Harbor Commission, to His Honor, who, he said, had done a great deal in bringing the different parts of the Province into closer contact with one another.

Mr. Williams also spoke highly of Mr. Fowler and voiced his pleasure at being able to visit the local chamber. He was trying to do good for his own harbor, and he was back yard. Naturally, he have cared for Vancouver, as you have looked after Victoria. But what is good for Victoria and Vancouver is good for the Province, he continued, noting some of the fields in which the two boards were working.

Mr. Williams stated that he was sure the purpose of the visit was to develop the work of the different boards of trade in B.C. would do something of lasting value for the Province.

On behalf of the Premier, Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education, welcomed the delegates. He spoke of the value of such meetings and humorously pointed out to the gathering the need for co-ordination as well as co-operation.

C. Tisdall, introduced by Mr. Fowler, echoed the remarks of Mr. Williams in noting the many objectives the Victoria and Vancouver bodies had in common in developing British Columbia.

Victoria is standing the recession of business better than any city I have seen. It looks prosperous, and while not as well off as formerly, it is still in good shape," he declared.

Speaking of the West Coast Road project, he expressed the hope that Victoria would look ahead and develop the area as a tourist attraction. He spoke of the improvements of roads and waterways, and referred to their tremendous value to the city.

Mr. Tisdall also touched upon the national wealth in water power in this province, and referred to the development of B.C. at present B.C. salmon men were suffering under terrific stress, occasioned to some extent by great competition from European canners. With the exception of the tin plate used in making the cans, all materials used were B.C. products, he stated.

P. E. Burton, salmon canning expert, spoke briefly on conditions in his particular field. He said that the future of the salmon industry was wrapped up in the development of B.C.

At present B.C. salmon men were suffering under terrific stress, occasioned to some extent by great competition from European canners. With the exception of the tin plate used in making the cans, all materials used were B.C. products, he stated.

With Lieutenant-Governor Bruce and Premier Mackenzie in attendance and Mr. C. M. Davies as chairman, Dr. C. M. Davies will give an address to-night at the Royal Victoria Theatre on "Modern Innocents Abroad," which describes the intimate experiences of the speaker and his party on their recent trip to Europe and to the Oberammergau Passion Play.

The doors will be thrown open at 7 o'clock, and at 7:30 o'clock the Victoria Civic Band will commence playing. The first part of Dr. Davies' speech is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock. Before the commencement of the second part, there will be a musical performance, interpreted with singing at Hamilton in 1922.

A resume of the work done at the meeting of the general council of the United Church of Canada at London, Ont., recently, was given by W. E. Harp, Victoria commissioner, at a meeting of the Metropolitan Church schoolroom yesterday evening.

As a means of saving approximately $24,000, the commissioners had decided to cut the number of delegates to the meeting to one-third, Mr. Harp said. The question of ordaining women was also discussed and after considerable argument, it was decided to take a vote of all the presbyteries in Canada and present the matter to the next synod.

Mr. Ann McTear, a resident of Victoria, who has been in the city for the last forty years, died at his home, 1110 Douglas Street, at 2 o'clock, to-day.

Funeral services will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. W. C. Wilson will conduct the services, and interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, Oct. 22.—Wheat: Started off rather weak this morning with prices sinking to 3-4 under the close of last night, based largely on the cable Liverpool fully following our late decline yesterday and to the fact that little or no export business had been worked over night. On this tip three wheat futures were sold, but only one was actually bought, and the balance was sold to be for account of foreigners, and was sufficient to take all the slack out of the market, offering being very small from then on.

Later Chicago wheat and then corn turned strong, and with the local market feeling friendly to the market for a turn, the market started to advance, with practically only a local trade passing, with early sellers covering up, and probably a little buying here by Chicago on spreads, prices going to more than one and one-half cents over the previous close.

In the cash markets shippers and American mills were after the top grades, and the number of orders going through the clearing house offerings were not pressing, but there was no tendency on the part of buyers to advance their bids. Terminals are after the lower grades, but only one car was obtainable and spreads on these were 1-2 to 1 better.

The weather for the most part is clear and warm, and the crops are likely to increase. Private cables stated that Russia and Argentina were pressing wheat for sale while the demand was quiet.

Chicago reported heavy buying at times by commission houses. Sanford Evans raised his estimate of wheat unsold in the Canadian west from forty-five to sixty-five or seventy million bushels. Futures closed strong and at the top for the day showing gains of 1-7-8 to 1-5-8 cents.

Corn: Grain: Oats and rye were stronger largely influenced by trend of wheat, but barley was dull and featureless. The market for wheat was little doing, the cash markets being extremely quiet, but oats futures were high and easily advanced.

Flax: This market was dull and featureless, closing 7-8 lower to unchanged. Liverpool due 1-3-4 higher based on Winnipeg.

Safety First

In any investment there are many desirable qualities. To mention some of the more important, there are safety, yield, marketability and diversification.

As these factors are interdependent it is impossible to combine them in any one security. We must, therefore, seek investments which offer, in the greatest degree, the factors necessary to our individual requirements.

The experienced Investment Banker, with his knowledge of financial and economic trends, is in a position to give his clients considerable assistance in the selection of investments that suit their particular requirements.

SOVIET GIVES HINT OF NEW TARIFF WAR

Warning Issued at Moscow Believed Directed Chiefly Against U.S.

Moscow, Oct. 22.—The newspaper Izvestia and Pravda, in leading editorials yesterday, voiced threats of economic retaliation by the Soviet Government against countries which may pass laws prohibiting importation of cheap Russian goods. The editorials were inspired by the decision of the Council of People's Commissars to reduce to a minimum purchases in any country which "places obstruction to Soviet imports."

While the editorials and the commissars' decision did not mention the United States, there is said to be little doubt the warning was intended primarily for the United States.

WATCHED BY CANADA

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—One of the arguments presented to the Dominion Cabinet when it was considering the banning of Russian anthracite coal is believed to have been the effect such action would have on Russian buying from Canada. In any event the ban was not put on. Importers agreed, however, not to import any more Russian coal this winter, their contention being that would enable them to prove Russian coal did not come into competition with Nova Scotia coal.

During the year ended March 31 last, Canada sold Russia $3,732,401 worth of goods, as compared with $2,457,492 for the previous fiscal year. The largest single item last year was ploughs and parts, $974,282. The second largest item was wheat, valued at $908,236.

OTTAWA BANK MANAGER PUTS END TO HIS LIFE

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—The heavy losses of J. Victor Stanley, fifty, branch manager here for the Bank of Toronto, suffered in late months through stock market dealings, caused him to take his life in the bank office early today. He left a note for his wife saying: "I will be forgiven for going out this way." He shot himself.

The fact that Stanley had recently carried on losing operations in stocks was revealed in the note to his wife, found lying beside the body.

Stanley was manager of the Bank of Toronto Branch in the Union Station.

He was a member of one of the city's service clubs.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, Oct. 22.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says:

LIQUIDATION RESUMED

"Yesterday's market brought forth the completion of the rallying movement which started last Saturday, and in addition confirmation with the viewpoint expressed here yesterday, ended up the session with a loss of more than one-half of the ground gained in the rally. Any long trading commitments, therefore, which had been made on the prediction of a technical rally should have been successfully closed out by either the acceptance of early high prices of the day, or the execution of such close subsequent decline.

"With this technical rally now having completed itself, I believe we are seeing a resumption of the security liquidation programme which has been adopted by the banks, and which, even though it is set up on from time to time to give the market a breathing spell, is still far from completed.

"Federal Reserve figures for last week show no particular worth while progress in the reduction of security loans, so that I think considerable work remains in this direction.

"In addition, we are certainly in a phase where news items continue to favor the downside. Third quarter earnings are now coming out in volume, many of which will eloquently exhibit a third quarter as poor, or relatively worse than that shown by the Westinghouse report, which showed the now generally prevalent situation of current dividends not being earned.

"Also I believe that to-day's iron age report will show a further substantial reduction in the rate of steel production, and certainly nothing built up on the steel trade. The oils can derive no benefits from the passing of a long-standing dividend such as Pure Oil. There are any number of other companies in this group who can hardly escape substantial cuts in their present disbursements as the present conditions are such that few third-quarter dividends are being earned. In fact, deficits are being escaped; together with these and other domestic considerations we have a foreign situation which points to the whole subject of reparations payments being repudiated for renewed discussion, a factor which, while it can be of long-term benefit, is not comfortable market news while it is going on.

"These are some of the things which are accounting for lower prices and which I believe will continue to do so for enough more time so that you will want little to do with the buying side, at least from day to day."

What Is Noranda Worth? Now Topic

Noranda's market decline is one big topic of conversation and it is when the stock touched it is given an entire company valuation of approximately $250,000,000, as compared with around $140,000,000 when the stock was heading a couple of years ago. With copper at ten cents a pound, ore reserves in Noranda, mine-out-at-total value of $84,921,440, Miller, Court & Co. report.

ORE RESERVES

Just what gross value Noranda could estimate on ore reserves may be hard to figure. Costs would appear to be running around 7 cents per pound of treated, while the production of higher-grade gold is an important item in raising smelter profits. The president has denied that any big quantities of copper are being stored, and at the same time says it is not intended to sidetrack copper-zinc production and concentrate on pushing gold ores.

NORANDA ASSETS

In addition to this reasonable estimate of profits from present reserves, Noranda has around $6,600,000 cash assets, a portion of which expectedly would be used in Canada. When the company recently when an interest was taken in that concern so as to secure a marketing outlet for copper, plant and equipment could be shown at around another $7,500,000, plus townsite and hotel investments of $1,050,000; power leases which have been secured, appraised at $1,000,000; great possibilities; customs smelting rights, controlling interest in the refinery at Montreal East, which should be an important Canadian enterprise.

ABOUT THE DIVIDEND

Noranda has issued 2,339,772 shares on which the dividend basis is $2 per year or 50 cents quarterly. Directors will not be meeting for dividend purposes for over six weeks yet, and even though copper and other things don't give much enthusiasm a lot can happen in the meantime. If copper stays at 10 cents or goes lower, the expectation is the dividend will be reduced. It was reduced from $3 to $2 per share basis when the metal dipped from 18 cents to under 13 cents a pound early this year.

LIQUIDATION PUTS STOCKS TO NEW LOWS

Steel Industry Production Drops Again to Under All Recent Levels

Freight Car Loadings Still Decrease, Despite Heavy Fall From 1929

Coppers, Motors and Oils Sink Again as Selling of Holdings Continues

New York, Oct. 22.—(Branson, Brown & Co. Limited.)—At the close of the market this afternoon, the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials stood at 184.98, off 1.43 points for the day; for twenty rails at 112.90, off .70 points; and for twenty utilities at 68.88, off .45 points. Sales for the day totaled 2,734,000 shares.

Stock prices dropped to new lows in the early part of the session to-day, with prices bobbing erratically for the rest of the day and ending moderately lower.

Successive spasms of liquidation were followed by rallies, but the vulnerable interest in the market is the big long interest, still holding on to stocks and others who have been previous stockholders to pick a bottom.

SELLING WAVE

After the opening to-day, a heavy wave of liquidation drove prices one to six points lower, with most of the electric equipment breaking through their recent resistance levels. Pressure was then lifted and a substantial rebound lifted a few shares one to four points higher.

Another flurry of selling in the last hour, however, left many issues one to five points off.

Electric equipment was heavily sold late in the day. General Electric dropped 2, and Westinghouse 5 points to new lows.

OILS ALL DROP

U.S. Steel closed off 1/2 at 145, after breaking to a new low at 143 1/2.

Dupont, National Power and Light and J. I. Case closed about two points lower.

Standard Oil of New Jersey established a new low at 62 1/2, and most of the active oil stocks followed down to new low territory.

Standard Oil of California and Kennecott both made new lows at 33 1/2 and 25 respectively.

MOTORS HIT AGAIN

Heavy liquidation continued in the motors with Auburn falling from 74 to 68, and Chrysler from 17 to 16, a new low at 15 1/2, Hudson to a new low at 19 1/2, Overland to a new low at 13 1/2, Packard to a new low at 9 1/2.

The new friends of General Motors dropped to 1 1/2.

General Motors held at 33 1/2, just a point above its last low.

STEEL PRODUCTION OFF

Steel ingot production of leading U.S. industry for the week ended last Monday is estimated at a fraction over 52 per cent, against 55 per cent in the preceding week and 56 per cent two weeks ago.

Steel Corporation of the U.S. is placed at slightly under 58 per cent, against 60 per cent in the previous week and between 61 and 62 per cent two weeks ago.

Leading independent steel makers are at a shade below 49 per cent, against slightly under 52 per cent in the week before, and 53 per cent two weeks ago.

At this time last year U.S. Steel was at 83 per cent, with independent makers at 77 per cent, and the average nearly 80 per cent. In the corresponding week of 1928 all the units in the foregoing compilation were credited with running at 86 per cent.

FREIGHT LOADINGS STILL DECLINE

General business conditions were indicated in the report of loading of freight cars, which for the week ended October 11 totaled 854,874 cars, a decrease of 17,418 cars from the corresponding week of 1929, and 235,687 off from the corresponding week of 1928.

VENEZUELA OIL CURTAILMENT

Lago Petroleum Corporation, Pan American subsidiary, has asked various companies to co-operate with it in curtailing production in Venezuela.

Lago suggests a cut of 6 per cent in line with the move to reduce output in the United States. Little is heard of Venezuela, but it is second in importance to the United States in oil production. Last year Venezuela produced 2,244,249,000 gallons of oil, valued at $144,244,000.

Production of the world's oil, valued at $1,137,000,000, was compared with 1,057,789,000 barrels or 8 per cent in 1928.

IMPORTANCE OF OIL

The oil industry ranks fifth in size in the United States, with value approaching $3,000,000,000. Since the first well was drilled in 1857, United States has produced 12,244,249,000 gallons of oil, valued at $144,244,000.

Production of the world's oil, valued at $1,137,000,000, was compared with 1,057,789,000 barrels or 8 per cent in 1928.

WOMEN LOSE MUCH CASH IN BIG BOB CRASH

Many Residents of Canada Involved in Failure of New York Man's Companies

New York, Oct. 22.—Women who live in Canada, Kansas, Kentucky, Ohio and New England—long-distance speculators, who know little or nothing of finance—are the heaviest losers in the collapse of Charles V. Bob's Metal and Mining Shares Inc., the New York State Attorney-General's office said to-day.

Bob has been missing since October 5, when he flew to Chicago aboard his plane, informing business associates he expected to return in a few days. His friends remained convinced to-day the financier had left the country.

Examination of records of the Metal and Mining Shares, said officials, disclosed that "an astonishingly large percentage" of investors were women holding minority shares. A majority interest in big blocks was held by Bob and his associates. There was nothing to indicate what the small investors paid for their stock. Similar investigations of twenty-nine other Bob companies are in progress, and within a day or so, Assistant Attorney-General Washburn said, applications would be made for receiverships for a number of these concerns.

United Oils Pays $126,500 Dividend

Dividend cheques totalling $126,500 were mailed to-day to the shareholders of United Oils, a company which declared a 5-cent dividend last week. The dividend of 5 cents per share was paid to over 3,000 shareholders of record as of September 1, 1930, Miller, Court & Co. announced.

The dividend was recommended at the last annual meeting of the company. This is the third dividend paid by United Oils since its incorporation in 1926. A dividend of one share of Devenish Petroleum for each share held in United Oils Limited was declared on that date.

At a meeting held on May 22, 1929, shareholders ratified payment of $2 per share on old issued capitalization of $500,000, the capital of the company was changed from $500,000 to $1,000,000 and 1-15th royalty.

The September dividend of 5 cents per share which has just been paid was on an authorized capitalization of 3,500,000 shares of no par value. By supplementary letters patent, issued April 27, 1929, the capital of the company was changed from $500,000 to $1,000,000 and 1-15th royalty.

She gave a little thought to her failure to make good her word about getting to Boston on time. Her chance was gone. She knew it, and unconsciously resigned herself to her ill fortune with gratitude to the Almighty for saving her life—and Dan's.

It tragedy had befallen him it would have been her fault. . . she had insisted upon the flight in the face of adverse weather conditions, she told herself.

Then she remembered that they hadn't landed yet. She looked over the side of the ship. They were dropping swiftly. . . the earth seemed to be coming up to meet them with a menacing threat to extinguish them. Jerry closed her eyes. She was seized with a new terror. She couldn't endure it any longer.

When she opened them Dan was lifting her out of the cockpit. She was too weak to struggle out of his arms. . . well she didn't want to. He held her until some people who had witnessed their landing from a nearby farm house came running to their assistance.

"Jerry, Jerry, Jerry!" It seemed to Jerry that Dan had repeated her name a thousand times. . . she didn't think it unmanly of him to let his voice shake, his hands tremble, either.

Jerry's story might have run a different course had they not been "rescued" so promptly. Two young people in love with each other, inevitably have come to a full understanding had they been left to themselves after such a harrowing experience.

But after hands turn Jerry away from Dan before he'd got over the wonder of having her safe in his arms sufficiently to respond to the urge within him to kiss her. And just when he would have done it and made her his own a yelling group bore down upon them, and his chance was gone.

Jerry was completely bewildered with the events that followed. For no reason that she could see she had become a heroine. A resourceful press agent, perceiving an opportunity to capitalize upon her narrow escape, said to that.

As soon as she could convince Dan that she was able to continue to their destination he had hired a farmer to drive them to the nearest railroad station, and then they arrived in Boston on that afternoon, it was too late for Jerry to rehearse, even if she had been equal to it.

Mr. Hule received her jolly when she came backstage. Evelyne was nearly distracted, but after a quick appraisal of Jerry's appearance she turned to Dan for an explanation. The press agent, upon accompanying Jerry to Mr. Weinert's office to plead for her.

Jerry took leave of Dan and he promised to get out, front that night. Jerry declared she would be able to appear if Mr. Hule and Mr. Weinert would permit her. Very fortunately for her the company's press representative, who had been in the wings, had been the girls were admitted to his office.

The producer, scowling fiercely, gave Jerry a chance to tell her story. He was reducing her to the ranks, with all the sarcasm at his command. She had not finished her recital when the purveyor of free space burst out with a thump of his foot.

"This show's been passing out for the lack of a good yarn to hand the newspaper boys," he declared with much earnestness. "And here's a natural, J. W."

Jake Weinert grunted. "Of course it is," Evelyne exclaimed. "Why don't you run a photographer to the plane and get some pictures before Mr. Carstairs takes it away?"

The press agent regarded her approvingly. "That's the idea," he said pleasantly. "But we've got a better one. We'll go out to a field, hire a ship and make a good crash. Miss Ray can be snapped in the picture."

"Oh, no," Jerry cried. "You mustn't let him do that. Mr. Weinert, it might . . . she stopped in confusion. She had been on the point of saying, "hurt Mr. Harry's reputation," when her better judgment came to her rescue. She held her words back.

What the flying world thought of Dan wouldn't mean a thing to the press agent, she knew.

"Well," Mr. Weinert said, lifting his bushy eyebrows.

CHAPTER XLIII
"Why," Jerry stammered, "you know . . . Alester's father . . . it would get him into trouble."

Again Mr. Weinert grunted. "Hm," he said, "there's something in that. His old man has threatened to take his plane away from him if he has an avoidable accident. I guess you call this an avoidable accident—letting his ship go out in a storm."

"But he could fix that," the press agent declared. "He'd have his ship to show that it hadn't smashed."

"His father's friends would see your picture," Jerry pointed out. "And I don't think Alester would like you to use his name," she added, turning back to Mr. Weinert.

He nodded. "I guess we'd better not make the boy sore, Sid," he said to his publicity man.

A very interesting slam hand came up in a recent duplicate contract match. Many pairs attempted to play the hand for a slam at no trump but were defeated. The pair playing it at hearts won top score.

ments and charms Jerry Ray lacked something. Perhaps it was talent. Some called it that. Others called it a spark. The thing that fires you to do greater things.

Mr. Weinert, keen showman that he was, shook his head when he thought of her as a potential star. "She just didn't have it," that was all. Bernhardt and Duses and Pavlova aren't born every minute.

Jerry never knew that she had been passed upon for such a role. She was pleased over the hit she had made in Boston and was looking forward with eagerness to the opening night in New York.

Dan would be there. He couldn't stay away. Alester, too. She knew she did not care much whether he came or not. It was Dan, but she would not let herself weigh the matter.

The hour arrived when she stood in the wings of Weinert's New York theatre and stared across the stage at her dancing partner, waiting for her cue.

But she was strangely depressed. She had stolen out on the stage when the curtain was down and "peeped" the audience. She failed to find the one she was looking for, though she saw Alester in a box with a group of friends.

Jerry recognized Betty Mortimer among them. Alester seemed to be in a very good mood. He had just been backstage to wish Jerry a "tremendous success." He meant it. He had been devoted to her since his return from the cruise in his father's yacht. She could not help but feel that he cared more for her than ever.

Alester knew it, too. "Maybe I'm a fool," he had said to himself, "but I think I'm going to marry her."

After the opening night in New York he was sure of it. During an entr'acte when he and Betty were left alone in his box he asked her what she thought about it.

"I think it's top stuff," she said with wholehearted directness. "You like her, don't you?" Alester wanted to know.

"Indeed I do," Betty declared sincerely. "I could depend upon you to sponsor her and see that my mother knows she's acceptable."

"Why, Alester," Betty laughed, "you're talking as your father might have talked at your age. Don't you know it's the fashion to have a show girl in the family? Jerry won't need a sponsor. She might need a guardian when you introduce her to our jaded young sensation hunters."

That night Alester proposed to Jerry. It was at a party that Mr. Weinert gave in his rooftop apartment. He had personally invited Jerry.

There were two orchestras, one at either end of a spacious ballroom. Long as the two girls and a young man that Jerry had met at The Kraid. She danced with the young man and some friends of Mr. Weinert because of her nature to be obliging.

But when Alester led her out on a flagged terrace to a corner with a comfortable seat she was glad to have the opportunity to sink down on the linen cushions.

How a simple daily health habit banished a persistent ailment

She was a victim of modern life, modern foods! Nearly always tired, depressed, headache—never just sick, never entirely well. Sluggish internal conditions allowed poisons to form in her system—kept her vitality at a low ebb.

Laxatives were drastic, sickening and lost their power quickly.

Then a friend—a bright-eyed, clear-skinned, young-looking woman brimming with good health—told her own health secret. Simply a dash of ENO in a glass of water every morning. To-day, this once miserable girl will tell you she has just begun to enjoy life.

ENO acts safely and naturally—a wonderful, non-habit-forming regulator.

What Makes
A Husband
Easy to Live With?

Dorothy Dix

Interrelated
Four
Contented
WivesIf a Man Has a Good Disposition; If He Is Companionable or Generous, or Shows His Wife
Little Attentions She Craves, She Will Bless
Lady Luck for Having Gotten Him for a Husband

ONE OF the things that every woman knows is that some of the best men in the world are the worst husbands. There are men who are as moral as Joseph, as dry as a prohibition agent and as domestic as the house cat, whose wives spend their time secretly cursing their wedding day, and there are other men who are poor weak creatures who are always zigzagging off the strait and narrow path, whose wives never cease to bless Lady Luck for having got them for husbands.

So I asked a group of women the other day what quality it was in a husband that made him easy to live with.

"Being pleasant around the house," said the first woman; "being amiable and sweet-tempered. Having a good disposition. That is what counts, for it is your husband's disposition you have to deal with 365 days a year, and if he is surly and morose and sulky or irritable and peevish or sour and sarcastic, he makes you utterly miserable, no matter how many abstract virtues he may possess.

"It doesn't console a wife for her husband's being a grouch to know that he is faithful to her. She would rather like to divide up his ill-humor with some other woman. Nor does it comfort the woman whose husband never speaks except to find fault with something to know that he never puts anything into his mouth stronger than tea water. She would prefer him soused and mellowed up a little.

"Neither does it make a wife happy to know that her husband is going to punch the home time clock at the appointed hour every evening if she also knows that at the sound of his key in the lock the atmosphere of the home is going to drop to zero and her own heart begins to register dread and the children hush their prattle and the cat scots for the cellar.

"Now my husband has his faults, plenty of them, but if he had a million more I would forgive every one of them because he is so agreeable to live with. When he enters the front door it is just as if the sun had burst from behind a cloud and the birds had begun to sing and suddenly everything was all right with the world.

"He has a smile and a gay word for us all and a good story to tell us. He is interested in hearing everything that we have done all day. He notices the new way I am doing my hair and tells me I get better-looking as I grow older and he compliments the cook if there is something particularly good for dinner. When we bring our little troubles to him he can always straighten us out, and he doesn't knock us for our mistakes—he shows us how to keep from making them again.

"Believe me, no woman who has a husband who is pleasant around the house ever prices the tickets to Reno."

"It is being chummy that makes a husband easy to live with," said the second woman. "What we women marry for is a companion, but mighty few of us ever get one. And that's where men get enough of our society. We have to practically throw them out of the house at night to get rid of them, but after marriage you couldn't anchor them to their own fireplaces with a steel cable. And the way of this no woman knows. After marriage she carries the same line of attractions and conversation that she did before marriage.

"Anyway, it just happens that way with most wives, but not with me. My husband is chummy with me. He talks over his business with me, he tells me all of his plans and he is interested in what I think about things.

"So we have never talked out as so many married couples appear to do. You never see us sitting up reading the programme through from lid to lid between the acts at the theatre, or poring over the menu because we have nothing to say to each other while we wait for our food. My husband shows that he likes to take me out with him and that I add to his enjoyment on any occasion. We never have a dull moment together because we are what very few married couples are—friends."

"I think the thing that makes a husband easy to live with is for him to pay his wife little attentions," said the third woman. "Most men think that when they have provided a woman with food and clothes and a house to live in they have done their full duty toward her. If they add to this a good car and a few trips and a pearl or two, they consider that their wives ought to be down on their knees in gratitude to them and that they should not expect anything else from them.

"Why, I know plenty of women who might just as well be married to a cash register for all the companionship and consideration and tenderness they get from their husbands. They have plenty of money to spend, but their husbands don't pretend to take any personal interest in them, or to care what they think and feel. Why, I know men who give their wives a cheque at Christmas, and say: 'Buy yourself something, I don't know what you want.' As if any man could love a woman and not know her tastes!

"And that is what keeps me burning incense before my husband. He never forgets the little things. He notices when I look pale. He is solicitous about my not having slept. When my appetite fails, he brings me home some little dainty that I especially like. He knows the colors that suit me and doesn't buy me a red hat when I never wear anything but blue. When he is away he sends me flowers and candy and letters and telegrams, and when he makes me a present it is something that I have been longing for, and that shows he remembers every half-expressed wish.

"Last winter he surprised me by giving me a fur coat. One of my friends made a great fuss over it and I said: 'Why, you have one ten times as fine. Mine is just squirrel and yours is sable.' 'That is true,' she replied, 'but your husband gave you yours because he wanted to give you pleasure, while I had to badger my husband into giving me mine, although he was amply able to do it.'"

"And that's what makes it so pleasant to live with a man who pays you little attentions. It makes you feel as if you were a Lady Love instead of being just a mere wife."

"I think that generosity is the thing that makes a man easy to live with," said the fourth woman. "We haven't very much, and we have to scrimp and economize and do without—just of things that we want, but my husband gives me freely all that he can, and that is what counts. I don't mind wearing hand-me-downs when I know that he would give me imported Paris frocks if he could."

So said these women. What do you say, ladies? What is the thing you like best about your husband?

Auto Inventories
Are Still High; 20th Century Trust
Many Unsold Cars Distributors Named

Operating results of automobile manufacturers during the first half of 1930 left a great deal to be desired, but third quarter reports will be even more disappointing. The newest bulletin of The Brookshire Economic Service Inc., expresses the opinion that general business conditions at the beginning of the fourth quarter give little basis for anticipating improvement until some time next year. The report further finds that:

"Despite the fact that production of automobiles is being held to a minimum, sales resistance is such that the inventory situation clears up very slowly. We estimate that stocks of cars in dealers' hands were reduced by 114,000 from January 1 to September 1. The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce estimated stocks at the beginning of the year at 401,000 so there were apparently about 287,000 cars in dealers' hands on September 1. It is now estimated that production was 226,000 in September. This suggests that little further improvement in the inventory was somewhat larger than we had anticipated.

New York, Oct. 22.—Murphy & Co. of Boston have associated themselves with Twentieth Century Fixed Trust and have been appointed wholesale distributors for the shares in New England. According to the Twentieth Century Depositor Corporation, sponsors for the trust.

In addition to offering Twentieth Century Fixed Trust, it is expected that Murphy & Co. will also distribute Insurance and Bank Stock Trust which they are sponsoring. The latter trust operates under a Massachusetts declaration of trust and its principal object is that of purchasing shares of insurance, bank and trust companies. The certificates of Twentieth Century Fixed Trust are issued by The Bank of America N.A., of New York as trustees. The shares of the trust are 1-1000 participating interest in a unit consisting of two shares each of twenty-nine common stocks and a reserve fund amounting to sixty cents a share.

Every stock in the trust is rated "A" by Moody's Investors Service. The "A" includes "first-class" utilities, railroads, four oils and four utilities.

AT THE THEATRES

WILLIAM HAINES AND LEILA HYAMS AT THE DOMINION

What with William Haines in spurs and a cowboy sombrero, the attractive Leila Hyams and such fun-makers as Polly Moran and Cliff Edwards, at the Dominion Theatre, is one of the brightest comedies of the year. Haines, who in his varied screen career has had to learn everything from playing polo to twirling deers, the opening scenes of the comedy, laid in a travelling carnival atmosphere, and secondly he was taught the rudiments of herding cattle and riding bucking bronchos, these stunts playing an important part of the remainder of the picture, which shifts to cattle ranges in New Mexico.

ELSIE FERGUSON HAS STELLAR ROLE IN CAPITOL STORY

Of the most heartrending dramas of mother love, "Scarlet Pages," the First National and Vitaphone production, will close to-night at the Capitol Theatre. There is no sacrifice too great for mother to make for her children, and the way in which a prominent woman lawyer unhesitatingly ruins her career for her daughter's sake is vividly depicted in the gripping story. Elsie Ferguson, famous stage star, makes her talking picture debut as the mother, Marian Nixon, is seen as the daughter and Grant Withers in the role of her sweetheart. John Halliday, Helen Ferguson, De Witt Jennings, Charlotte Walker and Wilbur Mack are cast in prominent roles. "Scarlet Pages" is adapted to the screen by Walter Anthony from the play by Samuel Shipman and John B. Hymer. Maude Fulton wrote the dialogue. Ray Enright directed.

THRILLING FIGHT WITH WILD LIONS SEEN IN FEATURE

The lion is an interesting resident of Africa and his habits, while not to be commended, are at least fascinating. Regarded by some people as a coward, a bombast and a bluffer, the majority of hunters are willing to concede that he is a brave beast and deserving of his age-old title, "king of the jungle." In the new wild animal hunt film, "Ingagi" (meaning gorilla), which is now showing at the Coliseum Theatre, a fight with lions is portrayed among other innumerable thrills. The lion kills other animals for food and does his hunting like all the big cats, in the dusk. He likes zebra, in East Africa but won't turn up his nose at any other game animals.

Where To Go To-night

ON THE SCREEN
Capitol—"Scarlet Pages," starring Elsie Ferguson.
Columbia—"John Barrymore in 'General Crack'."
Coliseum—"Ingagi."
Dominion—"William Haines in 'Way Out West'."
Playhouse—"One Mad Kiss," starring Mona Maris.
Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

ROMANTIC REGIME OF EUROPE SEEN AT THE COLUMBIA

"General Crack," John Barrymore's initial Vitaphone talking picture for Warner Brothers, now playing at the Columbia Theatre was adapted by Walter Anthony and J. Grubb Alexander from the George Preedy novel, a stirring story of romance and adventure in the Europe of the eighteenth century, during the reign of Leopold II, of Austria. "General Crack" depicts the fiery love and hatred of a youth born of a gipsy princess and the Duke of Kurland. Many imposing battle scenes are presented in the film, while glorious scenes of carefree gipsy life contrasted to the pomp of the Austrian court, form important back-grounds for the swift action, much of the play being filmed in natural hues by the technicolor process. Principals in the cast are Marian Nixon, Armida, Robert Bosworth, Lowell Sherman, Andrew de Segura, Otto Matiesen, Douglas Gerrard, Philippe de Lacy and many others. Alan Crosland directed.

ECCENTRIC DANCER AT THE PLAYHOUSE IN "ONE MAD KISS"

Tom Patricola, who has the role of Paco in "One Mad Kiss," Fox Movietone musical romance, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is regarded as America's foremost eccentric dancer. He has been in eight Fox Movietone films in the seven months he has been with the organization. Marcel Silver directed this production. Don Jose Mojica heads the cast.

STOCKDALE PLAYS ROLE OF SOLDIER IN "HELL'S ISLAND"

Throughout his entire screen career, Carl Stockdale has been cast for the role of "heavies." He has done many dastardly deeds on the screen. In reality, Stockdale is a kindly, retiring and most friendly person. For the first time in his career, he has been assigned to a characterization which nearly approximates his own private personality in depicting the role of a French colonel of the French Foreign Legion in "Hell's Island." The Columbia sensational dramatic production scheduled to play at the Playhouse Theatre next week.

RAMSAY AGAIN HEADS SAANICH LIBERAL PARTY

Annual Meeting at Marigold Hall Re-elects David Ramsay as President

David Ramsay was yesterday evening unanimously re-elected president of the Saanich Liberal Association, at the annual meeting held at Marigold Hall with an excellent attendance. Other officers elected were: Honorary presidents, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and T. D. Pattullo, re-elected; honorary vice-presidents, C. H. O'Halloran and N. W. Whittaker, re-elected; vice-president, N. McGillivray, re-elected; H. L. Briggs and E. Bell; secretary-treasurer, H. E. Hill, re-elected. Unanimous votes of confidence in Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King as Federal leader of the Liberal Party and in T. D. Pattullo as Provincial Liberal leader were adopted and the central executive was instructed to immediately commence organization for the next provincial election and to use every effort to persuade Norman W. Whittaker to again be the Liberal candidate in Saanich. The meeting passed a resolution commending to the national leaders of the Liberal party study of national health insurance, with a view to preparation of a scheme to become a Liberal policy.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT
President Ramsay, in his annual report, congratulated the Liberal party upon election by the Kamloops convention of Mr. Pattullo as leader of the party. He believed the event would prove to be the outstanding event of the year in the progress of Liberalism in British Columbia.

The federal election was touched upon by Mr. Ramsay, who congratulated C. H. O'Halloran upon having increased his vote by 3,000 while C. H. Dickie, Conservative, only gained about 1,000 votes. Mr. Ramsay believed the new system of registration of voters had proved its great value.

Touching upon present conditions in Canada, Mr. Ramsay doubted whether pledges by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, to put an end to unemployment, would be realized. He urged women to take a more active part in political matters, believing the Liberal party would win their support because it offered a more constructive policy than that of the Conservative party. The great advance made by Liberalism in British Columbia was indicated in the federal elections, in which the party had made great gains from the Conservatives.

Mr. Ramsay was confident the British people would reject Mr. Bennett's proposals of exchange of trade privileges on a tariff basis, and feared the result would compel a closer study by Canadians of economic problems and the effect thereon of political policies. Canadians would then realize the basic worth of Liberal policies in promoting exchange of trade and advancing international friendship.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME
Vocal selections were rendered during the business proceedings by W. E. Woods and J. Matheson, accompanied by Mrs. Matheson. H. L. Briggs proposed the vote of thanks to the artists and to the ladies who served refreshments; the conclusion of the meeting.

THE CERTIFIED FUNERAL ADVISERS
ANNOUNCE THE ELECTION OF A MEMBER FOR VICTORIA, B. C.

HAYWARD'S B. C. FUNERAL CO., LTD.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS 734 BROUGHTON ST.

In selecting the member for Victoria, only one firm in a city being admissible, due consideration was given to the more than half-century of service in this city, by Hayward's B. C. Funeral Co., Ltd., and to the high esteem in which this firm is held in this community.

The Certified Funeral Advisers represent the foremost funeral directors of each city, selected after rigid investigation of experience, facilities, and reputation.

Members of the association will sponsor a series of messages setting forth facts about burial service never before publicly discussed.

And to further acquaint you with the business methods of a funeral director, the cost of funerals, etc., Hayward's B. C. Funeral Co., Ltd. has established an Advisory Department where free information on every phase of burial service is available to all. Visit this new department when you can, and meanwhile send for Hayward's B. C. Funeral Co., Ltd.'s instructive booklet, "Before Sorrow Comes."
